Tito Favors Coexistence For Nations

Summit Conference Urged Today in Talk At United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia urged today a summit meeting to chart a code for peaceful coexistence for the nations of the world.

He made the proposal in a speech before the U.N. General Assembly in which he appealed urgently for an end to the cold war.

The visiting Yugoslav leader asserted that the fundamental political question facing mankind is coexistence among states with different economical and political systems.

Tito put it this way:

"It would be of particular importance for the further improvement of international relations and for the strengthening of peace in the world for the United Nations—as the most representative gathering of equal and sovereign nations and as the most prominent forum through which world opinion expresses itself—further to elaborate and to codify the principles of peaceful coexistence."

He said he is aware that the matter is covered by the U.N. Charter and is also under discussion in the assembly's legal committee.

Nevertheless, he added, because of the fundamental importance he attaches to the question, "I feel that the United Nations should devote particular attention to the consideration of this question on a high level and in a manner which would most appropriately reflect its importance."

Tito, making his first visit to the U.N. since 1960, has contended the international organization should draw up ground rules for peaceful East-West relations.

Tito, who came to New York after talks in Washington last week with President Kennedy, has followed a path of nonalignment in the East-West struggle.

Police Guard Tito after 2 Incidents

NEW YORK (AP) — Police kept a tight protective guard on Yugoslav President Tito and his party today following two incidents involving anti-Titoist factions. President Kennedy asked for a report.

A clash between Tito aides and five persons Monday night, followed by the seizure of two Anti-Titoists near the foreign visitor's hotel suite, caused high-level conference's about Tito's safety.

United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who participated in the talks, said Kennedy had telephoned Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday night for a report from Rusk and protocol chief Angier Biddle Duke about the incidents at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Stevenson commented as he left his residence in the Waldorf Towers for the United Nations and an address there later by Tito. He said he would talk with Kennedy later by telephone.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said the police security detail had not been increased because the department felt it was adequate.

Police released the three Tito aides after questioning about the clash on a street outside the hotel, and said a routine report of the incident would be made to the State Department. One of the aides reportedly brandished a knife during the struggle.

The two men arrested on the 35th floor of the hotel were charged with disorderly conduct.

TWO HOSPITALIZED — A dense early morning fog may have been a contributing factor in this two car accident early today on the Walnut Creek Pike north of Circleville. John Griffith and Thomas Richmond were both hospitalized for treatment of injuries sustained. Another accident, possibly brought on by the fog, sent Charles E. Burdette to Fayette Memorial Hospital for treatment. It occurred just east of New Holland. (Photo by Sheriff's Department)

Dense Fog Listed as Factor In 2 Early Morning Mishaps

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton Spangler reported today that two early morning accidents were probably caused by the dense fog today.

The two separate accidents resulted in the hospitalization of three men.

John Griffith, Route 4, was transferred to St. Anthony Hospital, Columbus, after receiving emergency treatment at Berger Hospital.

City Says No To Bid for Negro Police

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — City officials rejected today an ultimatum by integration leaders that Negroes be hired as policemen or the city would face renewed mass demonstrations protesting segregation.

Councilman George G. Seibels Jr., reporting on a study of the issue, said, "We cannot recommend anyone be employed as a matter of special privilege only."

Seibels said a two-week deadline set by Negro leaders was irresponsible and ill-conceived, giving no weight to civil service regulations.

Seibels, chairman of the Public Safety Committee, said in a preliminary report to the nine-member council that his group's ultimate decision would be "based on what is best for the entire city without pressure or outside interference from anyone."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said Monday night he would confer with other Negro leaders and that an announcement on the renewal, or cancellation, of demonstrations would be made after the City Council session.

King, who led massive demonstrations here last spring, said Negro leaders must receive a public statement and promise that Negroes will be hired as policemen. The force has 465 white officers.

Showdown One Year Ago

U.S. Keeps Watch on Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Swift jet fighters are poised in Florida. Navy planes watch for large-hatch ships. High-flying U2s cover the island at least once a week.

It is a year to the day since the Cuban missile crisis pulsed to a peak, and the United States has spent the time beefing up its military force—particularly in Florida and the Caribbean.

The buildup is also global. In the fall of 1962 the Air Force had about 180 liquid-fuel intercontinental ballistic missiles in place. Now about 460 are combat ready.

The Navy had nine Polaris missile submarines. Now 13 are in commission.

The Soviet Union and Cuba face a much stronger and more alert United States than they did on the night of Oct. 22, 1962, when President Kennedy declared to the nation: "I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventuality."

Through the summer of 1962

He is listed in "fair" condition by St. Anthony hospital authorities today. He is suffering from possible head injuries.

INJURED in the same accident was Thomas J. Richmond, 58, Route 1. He was admitted to Berger Hospital for treatment. He complained of neck and shoulder injuries according to Spangler.

The accident occurred early today at the intersection of the Bell Station Road and the Walnut Creek Pike. Griffith was going west on the Bell Station Road and Richmond North on the Walnut Creek Pike.

Sheriff Spangler, who is investigating the accident said visibility was extremely limited by the fog.

The other mishap occurred on Route 22 just three miles east of New Holland.

Charles E. Burdette, 30, Zanesville, was forced to take to the ditch with his tractor trailer outfit, when an oncoming car approached in his lane, according to the story he gave to Deputy Sheriff William Poutious. The car was apparently passing a third car.

He was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington C. H. for treatment of stomach and chest injuries. Both accidents are still under investigation.

Spangler warned motorists to be careful when driving in the fog this time of year. He noted that during the early morning hours there is fog practically every day.

Parole Is Granted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Pardon and Parole Commission granted a parole today to former Mansfield resident convicted last year of manslaughter.

Ernest Allen, 46, will be paroled on or after Dec. 19. Commission records show Allen fatally shot James Montgomery with a .38 caliber revolver after the two argued about poker game winnings.

The shooting, in which Allen also was wounded occurred Sept. 8, 1962, in Sandusky.

Diplomats See Long Period of Calm Ending

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expect the diplomatic fronts—both in the East and the West—to begin warming up again.

They feel that the relatively long period of calm during the limited nuclear test ban talks with the Soviet Union and during the changes of government in Britain and West Germany is over.

But no real drama is expected, nothing like the U.S.-Soviet crisis over Cuba a year ago.

The truce on the cold war is believed here to have ended with this recent series of happenings:

Soviet troops blocking American and British convoys on the Berlin autobahn; the Soviet attack on the planned NATO multilateral force; and Izvestia's bitter comment on Exercise Big Lift, the U.S. experiment in transporting a whole division across the Atlantic by planes.

With the seeming end of the thaw, U.S. foreign policy experts figure the Kremlin will: —Prod the West with tangible reminders that the Berlin issue is still alive.

—Seek opportunities to split the Western allies;

—Continue to seek understanding with the United States on pending issues, especially on minor ones.

The more peaceful activities will consist of talks on a variety of topics, ranging from negotiation on purchases of wheat to disarmament.

The situation with the allies appears to be a more complicated one. It will be Secretary of State Dean Rusk's task to find out, and soon, what if any changes in foreign policy the new governments in Britain and Germany represent.

No dramatic changes are expected, officials here said, but there may be skirmishes between the allies on a number of issues. Officials pointed out that differences between the four major Western capitals are always more accentuated before NATO's ministers convene—the council is due to meet in Paris (Continued on Page 2)

OSU Enrollment Up Nine Per Cent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's enrollment has reached 33,284, up nine per cent from last fall. It is at an all-time high for the 13th successive year, the registrar's office reported today.

The student population includes 30,508 on the Columbus campus and 2,776 at seven branches throughout the state. The freshman class on campus at 9,476, is up 587 from last year. Branch enrollments are Lakewood 767, Wright Field 565, Lima 461, Mansfield 381, Newark 325, Marion 244 and Cincinnati 33.

Steel Prices Probed

Bulletin

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The vanguard of the transport planes in "Exercise Big Lift" have landed in Germany with the first of 16,000 American soldiers and airmen moving across the Atlantic in a historic demonstration of military mobility.

BERGSTROM AFB, Tex. (AP)—The Army and Air Force joined hands today in a historic demonstration of the United States' power to throw a quick fighting punch overseas.

The first of more than 200 air transports carrying the 2nd Armored Division to Germany in Exercise Big Lift left the runway at Bergstrom AFB near Austin at 11:57 p.m.

Minutes later other Military Air Transport Service planes took off from Gray AFB at Killeen, Connally AFB at Waco and Sheppard AFB at Wichita Falls with other troops of the Ft. Hood-based 2nd Armored and supporting units.

The airlift, largest in U.S. military history, continues until Thursday afternoon. Then the 2nd Armored will tangle with the 3rd Armored Division in mock nuclear war. The 3rd Armored, which plays the role of invader, is already in Europe.

As five troop-laden transports filled the air every hour from Texas bases, about 160 tactical planes were leaving from two bases in Maine—Loring AFB and Dow AFB.

The first to take off from Loring was a huge KC135 jet tanker of the Strategic Air Command. The tanker planes headed out to make refueling contact with supersonic F100s and F125s.

Court Order Is Suspended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A restraining order limiting the number of pickets and permitting undisturbed access to the strikehouse Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here was suspended today until at least Wednesday.

Judge Kenneth L. Sater, who issued the order last Thursday, said it would go back into effect when hearings resume Wednesday unless the company and the International Union of Electrical Workers, Local 746 reach agreement before that time.

The suspension was agreed upon by the company and union and approved by Judge Sater in closed court sessions this morning.

The local bolted a day-today working agreement that was in effect nationally while company wide negotiations were under way in Pittsburgh. The company sought the restraining order immediately after the walkout.

Houk Is Boosted Up Yankee Ladder

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk, field manager of the New York Yankees for the past three years, was named general manager Tuesday, succeeding Roy Hamey, who retired because of ill health.

The successor to Houk as manager will be named Thursday, and the prime candidate is Yogi Berra, the long-time Yankee catching star.

Under Houk, the Yankees won three American League pennants and World Series championships in 1961 and 1962. They lost the '63 Series to the Los Angeles Dodgers in four straight games.

He Wanted Excitement

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — With the comment, "I did it for excitement," a 15-year-old boy has admitted starting a fire that heavily damaged a residential and commercial building, police say.

The eighth grader was taken into custody Monday after an investigation. Residents in four apartments were routed by the blaze on St. Clair Avenue Oct. 14.

chief of the strike command running the airlift of 16,000 soldiers and airmen, told the troops at Ft. Hood shortly before they boarded buses en route to the air bases.

U.S. officials have said the major aim of Big Lift is to demonstrate to this country's allies and to the Soviets an ability to reinforce swiftly the forces facing the Communists along the Iron Curtain in West Europe.

"We're ready to go," said Maj. Gen. Edwin H. Burba, commander of the 2nd Armored.

Hurricane Ginny, cavorting off the Atlantic Coast, changed part of the flight plans. Some flights originally scheduled to fly to Germany by way of Bermuda and Azores turned to the northern route over Greenland and Scotland.

The exercise is the largest long-range airlift of armed men in history. Its total cost is estimated at $20 million, including payment for 6 million gallons of fuel needed for air transports alone.

Burma estimated the transatlantic transfer of 14,500 division soldiers and supporting artillery and truck troops, plus 116 jet fighters and other planes with 1,500 airmen, would take 63 hours and 40 minutes.

Sea movement of the 2nd Armored and its more than 27,000 tons of equipment would take about four weeks. That does not include time needed to load and unload if the heavy gear was not already in depots west of the Rhine River.

A total of 202 transports carried the Army troops with 29 other planes stationed at various refueling points for use if any troop carriers should break down en route.

News of World in Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON (AP) — A hearing is being held to determine whether Sir John Hobson, Britain's attorney general, violated professional ethics in the deportation case of an African chief.

It is believed to be the first such arraignment of an attorney general, Britain's chief legal officer.

The chief, Anthony Enahoro, was returned to Nigeria last May and sentenced to 15 years in prison for treason.

The masters of the bench of the Inner Temple, one of four British Inns of Court responsible for maintaining the ethics of the legal profession, opened a private hearing Monday on charges by Reginald Paday, labor member of Parliament, that Hobson presented an inaccurate and misleading affidavit in the case.

DUNLOON, Scotland (AP) — The commander of the U.S. Polaris submarine base in Holy Loch says his men aren't entirely to blame for any increase in local immorality.

Capt. David Bell said the behavior of U.S. sailors is no worse than that of British sailors in the area.

The Rev. Allan MacLeod told his Presbyterian congregation Sunday there had been an increase of immorality since the Americans arrived. Bell said he resented "the reverend for blaming my men for all this trouble."

He said the Dunoon Town Council had contributed to the situation by not providing recreational facilities for the men.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanon has ordered its border patrols to shoot any infiltrators from neighboring Syria.

Four Lebanese soldiers were killed in a weekend border clash.

The government said the four soldiers were ambushed by Syrian troops inside Lebanon Saturday.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian air force now has air-to-ground and air-to-air guided missiles, the official Antara news agency announced today.

Antara said the air-to-ground missile could be launched from long-range Soviet-supplied TU16 bombers and then air-to-air missiles could be fired from MIG21 fighters.

Ship Reported Strafed Near Cuban Coast

NEW YORK (AP) — An American-owned ship, registered under a foreign flag, was strafed off the coast of Cuba today, its owners reported.

The attack damaged the superstructure and hull of the SS J. Louis, carrying a cargo of ore and set a fire in the fore-castle, but caused no casualties, according to the captain's radioed report.

A spokesman for W.W. Wagner of Universe Tankships Inc., owner of the J. Louis, said the attack occurred about 12 miles off Cape Coriente, Cuba. The ship was en route from Ocho Rios, Jamaica, to Corpus Christi, Tex., carrying 31,500 tons of bauxite ore.

The ship's master, Capt. Krause, reported afterwards to Wagner by radiogram:

"Under heavy airplane gunfire attack with 16 passes counted, causing damage to superstructure and hull above water line. Fire under fore-castle. After two hours of fire fighting now under control. No casualties."

The ship, a 33,000-ton vessel built in 1961 and registered under a Liberian flag, is under charter by the Caribbean Steamship Co., the spokesman said.

In Key West, Fla., the Navy said it had checked a report that a vessel had been fired on near the western tip of Cuba and sent aircraft to the scene.

Appeal Indicated In Burying Cases

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two Akron men whose embalmers' and funeral directors' licenses were revoked as a result of the investigation concerning unburied infants have indicated they will appeal a court ruling in the case.

Licenses of Clarence D. Irby, manager, and James R. Evans, principal stockholder of the funeral home, have been revoked by the Ohio Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors.

The state action came after hearings concerning the findings of eight decomposed bodies in the funeral home last year.

The state action was upheld by Common Pleas Court Judge Stephen C. Colopy Oct. 9. Irby and Evans have indicated they will appeal to a higher court.

Large Firms Subpoenaed

Federal Jury Set To Look at Records

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury moved today to dig into the sensitive area of steel industry price practices, subject of a Kennedy administration-business blowup in April 1962.

At least eight large steel companies have been subpoenaed to produce records relating to price policies since 1956. The list was headed by U.S. Steel Corp., industry giant.

The companies and the Justice Department were reluctant to shed light on the development. A spokesman for one company said the industry was taken by surprise.

It was learned that the grand jury, sitting in New York, directed presentation by Nov. 20 of all price lists on five classes of products published in the last seven years.

Thus, the inquiry seemed to go beyond selective markups that so far this year raised quotations on items accounting for roughly three-fourths of a mill tonnage, boosting steel prices by more than two per cent overall.

A $6 a ton across-the-board price increase 13 months ago triggered a pitched battle between the White House and leading steel producers. The steel firms backed down under heavy administration pressure.

The grand jury also called for annual reports dating from 1956, lists of sales officers and product managers, various tables and charts relating to price and other data.

After the April 1962 price boost, the administration, among other things, launched a grand jury investigation but it died down without concrete results.

President Kennedy expressed concern earlier this month over selective increases last spring and this fall covering about 70 per cent of all steel product.

Kennedy said the situation was being watched very carefully, along with markups in other industries, but said nothing about any formal investigation.

Increases in which the White House acquiesced last spring were limited to steel sheets, used heavily by automobile and appliance makers, and steel strips.

They were initiated by Wheeling Steel Corp., the 11th ranking company, and gradually spread across the industry.

Another round of increases started in September applied to oil field pipe, bars, plate, structural shapes and semi-finished steel sold by primary

Armco Asked To Produce Price Data

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Armco Steel Corp. said today it is among a group of steel companies subpoenaed to produce records before a federal grand jury in New York.

Armco had not been mentioned previously in connection with the issuance of the subpoenas.

A spokesman for Armco said merely that the Subpoena had been received and that attorneys for the company are studying it.

He declined to comment on reports that the companies have been ordered to produce all prices lists on five classes of products published in the last seven years.

Guthrie Takes Post With Standard Oil

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Warren Guthrie, who was a news announcer for 12 years on WJW-TV will join the Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) staff as an associate director of public relations.

The announcement from Standard Oil followed a report from radio station WHK that Guthrie will have an 8 a. m. news show on that station starting Nov. 4. His new duties at Standard Oil will be delayed until February.

Guthrie, 52, is chairman of the Speech Department at Western Reserve University.

Summit Conference Urged Today in Talk At United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia urged today a summit meeting to chart a code for peaceful coexistence for the nations of the world.

He made the proposal in a speech before the U.N. General Assembly in which he appealed urgently for an end to the cold war.

Tito, who came to New York after talks in Washington last week with President Kennedy, has followed a path of nonalignment in the East-West struggle.

Police Guard Tito after 2 Incidents

NEW YORK (AP)—Police kept a tight protective guard on Yugoslav President Tito and his party today following two incidents involving anti-Titoist factions. President Kennedy asked for a report.

A clash between Tito aides and five persons Monday night, followed by the seizure of two anti-Titoists near the foreign visitor's hotel suite, caused high-level conference's about Tito's safety.

United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who participated in the talks, said Kennedy had telephoned Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday night for a report from Rusk and protocol chief Angier Biddle Duke about the incidents at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Stevenson commented as he left his residence in the Waldorf Towers for the United Nations and an address there later by Tito. He said he would talk with Kennedy later by telephone.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said the police security detail had not been increased because the department felt it was adequate.

Police released the three Tito aides after questioning about the clash on a street outside the hotel, and said a routine report of the incident would be made to the State Department. One of the aides reportedly brandished a knife during the struggle.

The two men arrested on the 35th floor of the hotel were charged with disorderly conduct.

He Wanted Excitement

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—"With the comment, 'I did it for excitement,' a 15-year-old boy has admitted starting a fire that heavily damaged a residential and commercial building, police say.

The eighth grader was taken into custody Monday after an investigation. Residents in four apartments were routed by the blaze on St. Clair Avenue Oct. 14.

chief of the strike command running the airlift of 16,000 soldiers and airmen, told the troops at Ft. Hood shortly before they boarded buses en route to the air bases.

U.S. officials have said the major aim of Big Lift is to demonstrate to this country's allies and to the Soviets an ability to reinforce swiftly the forces facing the Communists along the Iron Curtain in West Europe.

"We're ready to go," said Maj. Gen. Edwin H. Burba, commander of the 2nd Armored. Hurricane Ginny, cavitating off the Atlantic Coast, changed part of the flight plans. Some flights originally scheduled to fly to Germany by way of Bermuda and Azores turned to the northern route over Greenland and Scotland.

The exercise is the largest long-range airlift of armed men in history. Its total cost is estimated at $20 million, including payment for 6 million gallons of fuel needed for air transports alone.

Burba estimated the transatlantic transfer of 14,500 division soldiers and supporting artillery and truck troops, plus 116 jet fighters and other planes with 1,500 airmen, would take 63 hours and 40 minutes.

Sea movement of the 2nd Armored and its more than 27,000 tons of equipment would take about four weeks. That does not include time needed to load and unload if the heavy gear was not already in depots west of the Rhine River.

A total of 202 transports carried the Army troops with 29 other planes stationed at various refueling points for use if any troop carriers should break down en route.

The chief, Anthony Enahoro, was returned to Nigeria last May and sentenced to 15 years in prison for treason.

Hunters Flock To Fields In Michigan

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—The same warm, dry weather that created Michigan's fire hazard conditions brought out a record number of hunters to the opening of the small game season Monday—and no tires were reported.

More than 250,000 hunters took to the fields. Three injuries were reported.

Among those hurt was Lonnie Cunningham, 38, of Toledo, Ohio treated for pellet wounds of the left eye received in Monroe County when a shot by an arther hunter ricocheted.

A poll of 56 pheasant hunters showed a shooting average of less than one bird for each four hunters. Last year, despite a heavy rainfall, the shooting average was one bird for every 2 hunters.

The Michigan Conservation Department authorized the start of the hunting season despite pleas from some local governments that it would add to the fire hazard.

Large Firms Subpoenaed

Federal Jury Set To Look at Records

NEW YORK (AP)—A Federal grand jury moved today to dig into the sensitive area of steel industry price practices, subject of a Kennedy administration-business blowup in April 1962.

At least eight large steel companies have been subpoenaed to produce records relating to price policies since 1956. The list was headed by U.S. Steel Corp., industry giant.

The companies and the Justice Department were reluctant to shed light on the development. A spokesman for one company said the industry was taken by surprise.

It was learned that the grand jury, sitting in New York, directed presentation by Nov. 20 of all price lists on five classes of products published in the last seven years.

Thus, the inquiry seemed to go beyond selective markups that so far this year raised quotations on items accounting for roughly three fourths of a mill tonnage, boosting steel prices by more than two per cent overall.

A $6 a ton across-the-board price increase 13 months ago triggered a pitched battle between the White House and leading steel producers. The steel firms backed down under heavy administration pressure.

The grand jury also called for annual reports dating from 1956, lists of sales officers and product managers, various tables and charts relating to price and other data.

After the April 1962 price boost, the administration, among other things, launched a grand jury investigation but it died down without concrete results.

President Kennedy expressed concern earlier this month over selective increases last spring and this fall covering about 70 per cent of all steel product.

Kennedy said the situation was being watched very carefully, along with markups in other industries, but said nothing about any formal investigation. Increases in which the White House acquiesced last spring were limited to steel sheets, used heavily by automobile and appliance makers, and steel strips.

They were initiated by Wheeling Steel Corp., the 11th ranking company, and gradually spread across the industry.

Another round of increases started in September applied to oil field pipe, bars, plate, structural shapes and semi-finished steel sold by primary.

Armco Asked To Produce Price Data

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Armco Steel Corp. said today it is among a group of steel companies subpoenaed to produce records before a federal grand jury in New York.

Armco had not been mentioned previously in connection with the issuance of the subpoenas.

A spokesman for Armco said merely that the Subpoena had been received and that attorneys for the company are studying it. He declined to comment on reports that the companies have been ordered to produce all price lists on five classes of products published in the last seven years.

Guthrie Takes Post With Standard Oil

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Warren Guthrie, who was a news announcer for 12 years on WJW-TV will join the Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) staff as an associate director of public relations.

The announcement from Standard Oil followed a report from radio station WHK that Guthrie will have an 8 a. m. news show on that station starting Nov. 4. His new duties at Standard Oil will be delayed until February.

Guthrie, 52, is chairman of the Speech Department at Western Reserve University.

in December—and the Big Lift appears to contribute to existing misunderstandings.

The Kennedy administration is still hoping that by early 1964 it will have a decisive answer from its allies on whether they want to go ahead with the multi-nation nuclear fleet, whether they have some other ideas or whether they want to scrap the plan.

Another problem is West Germany's concern that if Big Lift is successful — hereby proving the United States can swiftly reinforce Europe from bases in the United States—the U.S. force in Germany will be reduced.

State Department officials privately concede it will not be easy to convince Bonn that this is not the case. They blame remarks by Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric for stirring up the suspicion.

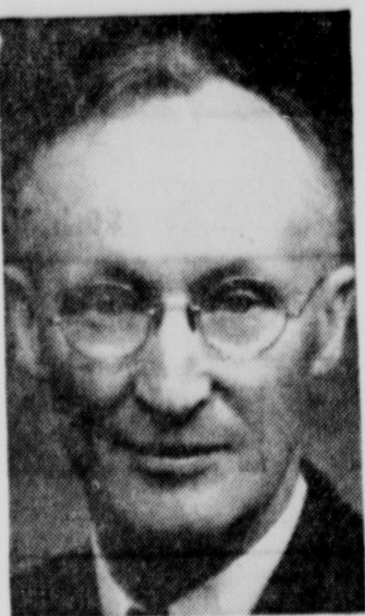

The Big Lift is expected to enable the United States to carry out "some shifts in the form of our military presence" in Europe, Gilpatric said in a Chicago speech last Saturday.

The speech caused considerable concern in Germany — and some confusion in Washington.

The State Department, it was learned, did not agree with this part of Gilpatric's speech, but its objections were overruled by the White House State Department officials insist there is no immediate plan for troop reductions.

The speculation about a possible reduction in U.S. forces got another boost Monday when the Army's announcement that its overseas units will be given more nuclear firepower.

"The Army said ground forces in Europe and the Far East will be equipped with additional units of Sergeant missiles, an improved type of Honest John rockets and more atomic warheads for eight-inch howitzers.

Nine Items Moved From Liquor List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nine whisky items will be removed from the state's list Dec. 31, the Ohio Department of Liquor Control says, and 25 items are going on "probation."

Lack of sales is the reason given. Items on probation may be delisted after April 1 if sales do not pick up, William S. Mackenzie, deputy liquor director in charge of stores says.

House Okays Scioto Funds

The House of Representatives approved yesterday a $133 million authorization to continue work on seven river basins, including the Scioto Conservancy District.

Included in the request is $482,000 to complete planning of Deer Creek and Big Darby reservoirs and to continue planning of Paint Creek Dam. The Deer Creek project will be in Pickaway County.

Senate approval is yet needed if work on the three reservoirs is to continue. Otherwise planning operations are expected to come to a halt by early December.

Rep. William Harsha Jr., of Portsmouth, believes construction will begin on the Deer Creek, Big Darby and Paint Creek reservoirs before June 30, 1965 if Congress keeps the planning money flowing this fiscal year.

Local Resident Handed Stiff Penalty in Court

Donald Davis, 1110 S. Washington St., charged with resisting arrest, assault and battery and intoxication by City Police was handed a stiff penalty by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb yesterday.

Judge Lamb levied fines to $300, and sentenced Davis to six months in the county jail. He also reimposed a suspended portion of a previous fine and jail sentence handed to Davis in Nov. of 1962 for assaulting a police officer.

At that time he was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in the jail $50 of the fine and the jail sentence were then suspended and he was placed on probation for two years.

The judge suspended $25 of one of the fines imposed yesterday.

Dump Owner Fined in Muny Court

Failure To Comply With Health Board Order Is Charge

Dr. J. N. Bowers, 815 Arbor Road, entered a plea of guilty today to charge of failure to comply with an order of the Pickaway County Board of Health. The case was heard in Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb.

Judge Lamb, after hearing the testimony of R. Thoburn Blaney, county sanitarian and several witnesses, levied a fine of $100 and costs and handed Dr. Bowers a suspended 90 day jail sentence.

Dr. Bowers, who owns a dump on the Island Road just north of the Red River Bridge, was ordered to cover the burning trash with at least three feet of packed earth by Judge Lamb. Failure to do so would call for the dump owner to serve the jail sentence.

More than thirty residents of the area appeared in court apparently ready to testify the burning trash was a hazard and a nuisance.

PICKAWAY COUNTY Prosecutor Robert Huffer noted that a permanent injunction to stop the dumping of trash on the property would be filed in Common Pleas Court unless the dump were properly maintained.

Blaney said a properly maintained land fill dump should create no problem.

Judge Lamb noted the action in court this morning was a criminal case for failure to comply with the order of the board of health and not a civil action seeking the closing of the dump.

Deer Creek Bridge Limit Is Reduced

Pickaway County Commissioners yesterday passed a resolution calling for the reduction of legal loads of vehicles using a bridge that spans Deer Creek.

The legal load for the Deer Creek Bridge on county road 500 at Era, in Darby Twp., was reduced to a five-ton limit by action of the Commissioners. The reduction is to be effective immediately.

In other official action, the commissioners signed a contract with the Village of Orient for care and feeding of prisoners committed to the county jail by the village.

The contract, effective Oct. 21, 1963 through March 1, 1964, calls for a daily rate of $2.25 to be paid by the village for each prisoner staying a 24-hour period in the jail. Commissioners signed the agreement with Peter M. Martin Sr., mayor of the village.

in December—and the Big Lift appears to contribute to existing misunderstandings.

The Kennedy administration is still hoping that by early 1964 it will have a decisive answer from its allies on whether they want to go ahead with the multi-nation nuclear fleet, whether they have some other ideas or whether they want to scrap the plan.

Another problem is West Germany's concern that if Big Lift is successful — hereby proving the United States can swiftly reinforce Europe from bases in the United States—the U.S. force in Germany will be reduced.

State Department officials privately concede it will not be easy to convince Bonn that this is not the case. They blame remarks by Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric for stirring up the suspicion.

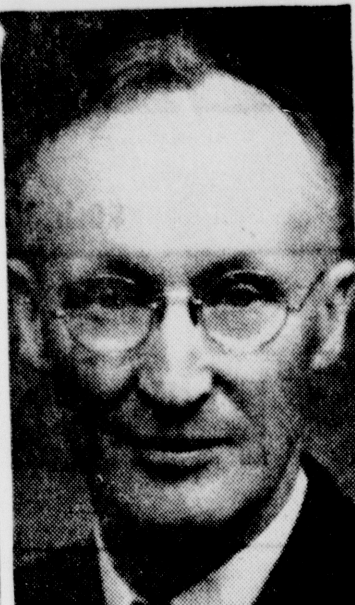

The Big Lift is expected to enable the United States to carry out "some shifts in the form of our military presence" in Europe, Gilpatric said in a Chicago speech last Saturday.

The speech caused considerable concern in Germany — and some confusion in Washington.

The State Department, it was learned, did not agree with this part of Gilpatric's speech, but its objections were overruled by the White House State Department officials insist there is no immediate plan for troop reductions.

The speculation about a possible reduction in U.S. forces got another boost Monday with the Army's announcement that its overseas units will be given more nuclear firepower.

The Army said ground forces in Europe and the Far East will be equipped with additional units of Sergeant missiles, an improved type of Honest John rockets and more atomic warheads for eight-inch howitzers.

C. F. ZAENGLEIN

Former Music Instructor Dead at 80

Mr. Charles F. Zaenglein, director of music in Circleville schools for many years, died 7 a. m. today at his residence in Wapakoneta, O.

Mr. Zaenglein died at the age of 80 years following a brief illness.

He was born April 28, 1883, at Piqua, the son of J. N. and Matilda Walter Zaenglein.

The noted music instructor retired in 1948 after teaching school for about 30 years. He attended Ohio State University and was a graduate of Bradley University, Peoria, Ill. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

SURVIVING are his widow, Emma Moore Zaenglein; two daughters, Mrs. John Caldwell, Route 3; Mrs. F. Renick Caldwell, Miami, Fla.; a son, Charles Zaenglein, Circleville; six grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Leland Ewers, Caney, Kan. A brother preceded him in death in addition to his parents.

Arrangements are being completed by the Heintz and Son Funeral Home, Wapakoneta.

Nine Items Moved From Liquor List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nine whisky items will be removed from the state's list Dec. 31, the Ohio Department of Liquor Control says, and 25 items are going on "probation."

Lack of sales is the reason given.

Items on probation may be delisted after April 1 if sales do not pick-up, William S. Mackenzie, deputy liquor director in charge of stores says.

Those delisted are Old Forster personalized fifth, Old Fitzgerald pint, Walsh pints, Beam's Pin Bottle, P & T Kentucky Bred fifth, Fairfax County bonded bourbon fifth, Three Feathers V.S.R. pints, Robertson's Yellow Label Scotch fifth, and MacNish V.L. 10ths.

Columbus Firm Goes to Athens

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The William Brooks Shoe Co. of nearby Nelsonville announced today it has purchased the Godman Shoe Co. of Columbus and will move it to the Athens County city.

General offices of the enlarged firm will be in Lancaster, in association with the Irving Shoe Corp.

George R. Utley, vice president of Brooks, said the firm is the largest American independent producer of boys' shoes.

Trio Held Pending Check Investigation

Steve Kirkendall, Stoutsville, Richard Buchanan, and Cecil Johnson, both of Wellston are being held in the Pickaway County Jail pending an investigation by Sheriff Walton Spangler.

Sheriff Spangler said the trio had allegedly made several attempts to pass worthless checks. They were apprehended by deputy William Pontious.

House Okays Scioto Funds

The House of Representatives approved yesterday a $133 million authorization to continue work on seven river basins, including the Scioto Conservancy District.

Included in the request is $482,000 to complete planning of Deer Creek and Big Darby reservoirs and to continue planning of Paint Creek Dam. The Deer Creek project will be in Pickaway County.

Senate approval is yet needed if work on the three reservoirs is to continue. Otherwise planning operations are expected to come to a halt by early December.

Rep. William Harsha Jr., of Portsmouth, believes construction will begin on the Deer Creek, Big Darby and Paint Creek reservoirs before June 30, 1965 if Congress keeps the planning money flowing this fiscal year.

The Scioto River basin program class for six major dams and local flood protection projects.

County Court Disposed of Three Cases

Disposition of three criminal cases was completed yesterday in Pickaway County Common Plea Court. They were:

Curtis Farmer, Route 2, Orient, who was placed on probation for three years for the malicious destruction of property. He was tried on a bill of information by Prosecuting Attorney Robert Huffer.

Tyrone Burton, Columbus, was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory for 1-15 years on an indictment charging him with assault with the intent to rob. Burton pleaded guilty to charges of beating Jack Clark Williamsport, on Aug. 29.

W. E. Cullum, Chardon, O., was placed on probation for three years on non-support charges. He was also tried on a bill of information.

Local Resident Handed Stiff Penalty in Court

Donald Davis, 1110 S. Washington St., charged with resisting arrest, assault and battery and intoxication by City Police was handed a stiff penalty by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb yesterday.

Judge Lamb levied fines totaling $300, and sentenced Davis to six months in the county jail. He also reimposed a suspended portion of a previous fine and jail sentence handed to Davis in Nov. of 1962 for assaulting a police officer.

At that time he was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in the jail $50 of the fine and the jail sentence were then suspended and he was placed on probation for two years.

The judge suspended $25 of one of the fines imposed yesterday.

Dump Owner Fined in Muny Court

Failure To Comply With Health Board Order Is Charge

Dr. J. N. Bowers, 815 Arbor Road, entered a plea of guilty today to charge of failure to comply with an order of the Pickaway County Board of Health. The case was heard in Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb.

Judge Lamb, after hearing the testimony of R. Thoburn Blaney, county sanitarian and several witnesses, levied a fine of $100 and costs and handed Dr. Bowers a suspended 90 day jail sentence.

Dr. Bowers, who owns a dump on the Island Road just north of the Red River Bridge, was ordered to cover the burning trash with at least three feet of packed earth by Judge Lamb. Failure to do so would call for the dump owner to serve the jail sentence.

More than thirty residents of the area appeared in court apparently ready to testify the burning trash was a hazard and a nuisance.

PICKAWAY COUNTY

Prosecutor Robert Huffer noted that a permanent injunction to stop the dumping of trash on the property would be filed in Common Pleas Court unless the dump were properly maintained.

Blaney said a properly maintained land fill dump should create no problem.

Judge Lamb noted the action in court this morning was a criminal case for failure to comply with the order of the board of health and not a civil action seeking the closing of the dump.

Deer Creek Bridge Limit Is Reduced

Pickaway County Commissioners yesterday passed a resolution calling for the reduction of legal loads of vehicles using a bridge that spans Deer Creek.

The legal load for the Deer Creek Bridge on county road 500 at Era, in Darby Twp., was reduced to a five-ton limit by action of the Commissioners. The reduction is to be effective immediately.

In other official action, the commissioners signed a contract with the Village of Orient for care and feeding of prisoners committed to the county jail by the village.

The contract, effective Oct. 21, 1963 through March 1, 1964, calls for a daily rate of $2.25 to be paid by the village for each prisoner staying a 24-hour period in the jail. Commissioners signed the agreement with Peter M. Martin Sr., mayor of the village.

More Dryness Is Outlook Across Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Dry" probably will continue to be the word for weather conditions across Ohio the rest of this week. Forecasters say they can see little or no relief from the prolonged drought before next weekend.

Howard Kenny, chief meteorologist at the Port Columbus weather station, said there was a slight possibility Central Ohio might get some light showers tonight or Wednesday morning but the rain would provide no substantial relief.

Sections of Central and Eastern Ohio have had the longest dry spells, ranging from 35 to 40 consecutive days. If the drought lasts another day in the Cleveland area it will match the 24-day record set in 1922.

Accompanying the persistent drought has been the inevitable mounting total of fires in the tinder-dry forests and grassland areas.

October fires are headed for a new record with 355 reported so far this month. The record of 403 was set in 1952.

The 355 fires blackened 2,245 acres.

M. K. Idleman, chief of the forestry division's fire protection section, said both men and machinery are beginning to show the wear of around-the-clock duty fighting the blazes. "Much of our equipment needs repairs but we have to keep it on the job," he said.

Idleman said the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers was asked Monday to refrain from burning debris along the Ohio River. "Smoke from the fires has hindered tower watchers," he said. "There is also the danger of fires spreading inland."

Federal Aid For Education Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today a bill authorizing a $1.9-billion, five-year program of federal aid for higher education. The money would go for grants and loans for new classrooms at four-year and junior colleges.

The vote was 60-19.

President Kennedy had proposed a three-year aid bill with the federal help limited to loans, but the expanded measure was strongly supported by administration leaders in the Senate.

This is the second bill the Senate has passed this year to carry out a part of Kennedy's broad aid-to-education program.

On Oct. 8 it passed a $3.2-billion measure increasing funds for vocational training and college student loans and extending the impacted areas program.

The construction measure now goes to conference with the House, which Aug. 14 passed a $1.2-billion bill containing the same amount on an annual basis as the Senate version. However, the House bill listed specific authorizations for only three years.

Both bills would benefit public and private colleges.

Blame for Swim Accident Has Not Been Determined

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — While a champion swimmer continued his battle for life despite loss of both legs to the propeller of a fishing boat, a controversy grew over who, if anybody, was responsible.

James Small, 27, former University of California athlete now a stock broker, lay in the Army's Letterman General Hospital where he was taken after his Sunday mangle in boat-crowded San Francisco Bay.

By Monday night he had given 56 units of blood — 43 of whole blood and 13 of plasma.

Army doctors, amazed that Small was alive at all, said they noted further encouraging signs — such as normal blood pressure, return to consciousness and stabilization of other vital signs. It was unknown whether Small knew he had lost both legs in the wake of his collision with the boat, Pacific Dawn.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard said it was not aware that Small and 10 other swimmers were swimming from Sausalito, north of the Golden Gate, last Alcatraz Island to San Francisco's Aquatic Park.

The Dolphin Swim & Boat Club, which for 47 years has sponsored such a swim annually, said it had notified the Coast Guard last spring in the form of a swimming schedule which Frank Drum of the club said included Sunday's race.

Capt. Richard Baxter, chief of Coast Guard operations, said he had seen no notice.

The Guard commander, Rear

Party Leaders Closely Watch Dakota Voting

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — National leader of both parties watched closely today as voters in 23 eastern North Dakota counties chose a congressman in a special election.

The result of the race between Republican Mark Andrews and Democrat John Hove is expected to provide a clue to electoral sentiment in farm areas.

Andrews, 38, rancher and former GOP national committeeman was a slight favorite in the traditionally Republican district. His political future was regarded as being on the line after his 2,007-vote loss to Democratic Gov. William L. Guy last year.

Viewed also as a threat to Andrews is the candidacy of John Scott, 61, wealthy farmer-banker from Gibby. Scott decided to run as an independent because he said the Republican convention did not nominate a candidate conservative enough to suit him. He has denied being a member of the John Birch Society but has attacked both regular candidates as too liberal.

Hove, making his first bid for office, had Gov. Guy running interference for him during much of the brief campaign. Hove, 47, is a university English professor who made much in his talks of having spent the first half of his life on a farm.

Andrews, using the defeat of the wheat referendum earlier this year, has banged away at the Kennedy administration's farm, economic and foreign aid programs. He has been a constant critic of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Andrews favors crop controls but at county levels.

Hove, generally backing Kennedy policies, has been reluctant in his speeches to identify himself with Freeman. He, too, favors a voluntary system of controls but has not spelled one out in detail.

Adm. William Winbeck, said that in any event "we had no authority to patrol swimmers in a race—but if we had known and one of our boats had been near" any Coast Guard crew would have done what it could to prevent such an accident.

Drum said eight rowboats accompanied the swimmers but Small was one of three swimmers shepherded by one boat. When one of the trio dropped back the rowboat let Small and James Baird go ahead.

Wiener Roast Is Enjoyed By Students

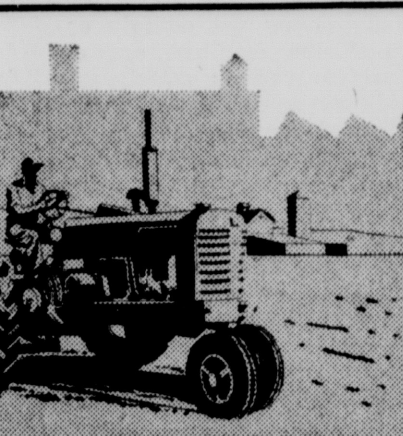

Members of the Senior Band and Kingston-Union High School music department students and their parents and families held a wiener roast and party recently at Gold Cliff Park.

The Kingston-Union Band Boosters also met recently with Miss Wilma Borror, music director, for their first session of the year. The president, Mrs. Don Buchwalter, conducted the meeting. Financial reports were distributed and Miss Borror announced coming events of the band. Future projects were discussed.

A jitney supper is scheduled for tomorrow 5:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria, with Mrs. Francis Kelley and Mrs. Paul Miller as co-chairmen.

A bake sale is being planned by the committee appointed: Mrs. Gene Stewart, Mrs. L. E. Hill and Mrs. George Conaway.

Election of officers was held and the following officers will serve, beginning in January: president, Mrs. Leo Smith; vice-president, Mrs. Joe Ours; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William Metzger; uniform committee, Mrs. Curtis Handley, Mrs. Mildred Likens and Mrs. John Ralston.

Castro Orders Price Raise To Aid Flood Control Work

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro has announced that his government is raising the price of beef, poultry, beer and cigarettes to help pay for a $200-million flood control program in hurricane-devastated Oriente Province.

In a three-hour television report Monday night on Hurricane Flora, Castro also accused the United States of withholding weather information from Cuban meteorologists during the storm.

He said a charge by the United States that Cuba had refused to allow flights of U.S. hurricane spotter planes over Cuba was "absolutely false."

Castro demanded lifting of the U.S. economic blockade because of the hurricane disaster.

"What we only ask," he said, "is that they cease a blockade on a country which has suffered a disaster of this kind."

The prime minister said a massive public works program for Oriente Province, in eastern Cuba, will include dams and flood control systems so there will never be a repetition of Flora's floods, which ruined crops.

Admitting heavy losses in the sugar crop, Cuba's principal earner of foreign currency, Castro said the price increases are necessary to buy heavy building equipment for the reconstruction program.

He said beef would be hiked to 55 cents a pound and poultry to 65 cents, while 5-cent increases would be added to cigarettes, now 10 cents a pack, and beer, now 25 cents a bottle.

Castro said the hurricane which swept the island two weeks ago had probably taken hundreds more lives than the

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
NO BAIL: After leaving through the law books, the Justice Department finds that Vito Genovese, named by informer Joseph Valachi as the boss of the crime syndicate Cosa Nostra, is ineligible for release from prison while his narcotics conviction is reviewed.

A department spokesman gave this opinion after study of the Supreme Court's order Tuesday that the Federal Court of Appeals in New York consider the case of Genovese, whom Valachi contended was still ruling the rackets from prison.

The Justice Department said that until the lower courts act, the 1959 narcotics racketeering conviction remains in effect and that Genovese must continue serving his 15-year sentence at Leavenworth Kan. federal prison.

NO FUSS: Secretary of State Dean Rusk had a face-to-face meeting Monday with the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee over the Senate's right to obtain information from State Department aides.

Although a clash had been expected over the department's plan to fire Ottoo F. Otepka, it apparently failed to materialize.

The department accused Otepka, its chief evaluator of personnel security risks, of violating regulations by slipping copies of some secret document to the subcommittee.

"There was no row," said Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., the acting chairman, after the two-hour closed meeting.

AID FOR INDIA: The United States is considering giving India material to equip two more mountain divisions but has made no final decision, the State Department reports.

Indian officials indicated over the weekend that Washington has agreed to provide the equipment so that Indian could increase the number of mountain divisions from six to eight.

But State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Monday that no commitment has been made.

UP AGAIN: A $600-billion-a-year economy appears to be a sure thing by early next year.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers has disclosed a surprising gain of $8.2 billion in the production pace last quarter, boosting national output to a record rate of $538.5 billion a year.

According to the council's "Economic Indicators" published Monday, the summer rise was easily the largest in any quarter since the fall of 1961 when the recovery from the business recession first bloomed.

However, officials discounted the chance that the sharp pickup would hurt congressional prospects for President Kennedy's $11-billion tax cut bill, designed to help stimulate the economy.

Drive on Drop-Outs
CINCINNATI (AP)—A drive to bring drop-outs back to classes in Cincinnati high schools has resulted in 59 of the 1,182 who left last year. That was the report Monday by Cincinnati school officials who said more returnees were expected later this fall.

More Dryness Is Outlook Across Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Dry" probably will continue to be the word for weather conditions across Ohio the rest of this week. Forecasters say they can see little or no relief from the prolonged drought before next weekend.

Howard Kenny, chief meteorologist at the Port Columbus weather station, said there was a slight possibility Central Ohio might get some light showers tonight or Wednesday morning but the rain would provide no substantial relief.

Sections of Central and Eastern Ohio have had the longest dry spells, ranging from 35 to 40 consecutive days. If the drought lasts another day in the Cleveland area it will match the 24-day record set in 1922.

Accompanying the persistent drought has been the inevitable mounting total of fires in the tinder-dry forests and grassland areas.

October fires are headed for a new record with 355 reported so far this month. The record of 403 was set in 1952.

The 355 fires blackened 2,245 acres.

M. K. Idleman, chief of the forestry division's fire protection section, said both men and machinery are beginning to show the wear of around-the-clock duty fighting the blazes. "Much of our equipment needs repairs but we have to keep it on the job," he said.

Idleman said the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers was asked Monday to refrain from burning debris along the Ohio River. "Smoke from the fires has hindered tower watchers," he said. "There is also the danger of fires spreading inland."

Federal Aid For Education Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today a bill authorizing a $1.9-billion, five-year program of federal aid for higher education. The money would go for grants and loans for new classrooms at four-year and junior colleges.

The vote was 60-19.

President Kennedy had proposed a three-year aid bill with the federal help limited to loans, but the expanded measure was strongly supported by administration leaders in the Senate.

This is the second bill the Senate has passed this year to carry out a part of Kennedy's broad aid-to-education program.

On Oct. 8 it passed a $3.2-billion measure increasing funds for vocational training and college student loans and extending the impacted areas program.

The construction measure now goes to conference with the House, which Aug. 14 passed a $1.2-billion bill containing the same amount on an annual basis as the Senate version. However, the House bill listed specific authorizations for only three years.

Both bills would benefit public and private colleges.

Blame for Swim Accident Has Not Been Determined

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — While a champion swimmer continued his battle for life despite loss of both legs to the propeller of a fishing boat, a controversy grew over who, if anybody, was responsible.

James Small, 27, former University of California athlete now a stock broker, lay in the Army's Letterman General Hospital where he was taken after his Sunday morning in boat-crowded San Francisco Bay.

By Monday night he had been given 56 units of blood — 43 of whole blood and 13 of plasma.

Army doctors, amazed that Small was alive at all, said they noted further encouraging signs — such as normal blood pressure, return to consciousness and stabilization of other vital signs. It was unknown whether Small knew he had lost both legs in the wake of his collision with the boat, Pacific Dawn.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard said it was not aware that Small and 10 other swimmers were swimming from Sausalito, north of the Golden Gate, last Alcatraz Island to San Francisco's Aquatic Park.

The Dolphin Swim & Boat Club, which for 47 years has sponsored such a swim annually, said it had notified the Coast Guard last spring in the form of a swimming schedule which Frank Drum of the club said included Sunday's race.

Capt. Richard Baxter, chief of Coast Guard operations, said he had seen no such notice.

Probation Ordered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James M. Herron, former cashier of the Northern Savings Bank here, was placed on five years probation in U.S. District Court Monday on charges of making fictitious loans totaling more than $40,000.

Federal agents told the court that the 55-year-old Herron, personally, didn't gain from the loans.

Adm. William Winbeck, said that in any event "we had no authority to patrol swimmers in a race—but if we had known and one of our boats had been near" any Coast Guard crew would have done what it could to prevent such an accident.

Drum said eight rowboats accompanied the swimmers but Small was one of three swimmers shepherded by one boat. When one of the trio dropped back the rowboat let Small and James Baird go ahead.

Wiener Roast Is Enjoyed By Students

Members of the Senior Band and Kingston-Union High School music department students and their parents and families held a wiener roast and party recently at Gold Cliff Park.

The Kingston-Union Band Boosters also met recently with Miss Wilma Borror, music director, for their first session of the year. The president, Mrs. Don Buchwalter, conducted the meeting. Financial reports were distributed and Miss Borror announced coming events of the band. Future projects were discussed.

A jitney supper is scheduled for tomorrow 5:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria, with Mrs. Francis Kelley and Mrs. Paul Miller as co-chairmen.

A bake sale is being planned by the committee appointed: Mrs. Gene Stewart, Mrs. L. E. Hill and Mrs. George Conway.

Election of officers was held and the following officers will serve, beginning in January: president, Mrs. Leo Smith; vice-president, Mrs. Joe Ours; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William Metzger; uniform committee, Mrs. Curtis Handley, Mrs. Mildred Likens and Mrs. John Ralston.

Party Leaders Closely Watch Dakota Voting

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—National leader of both parties watched closely today as voters in 23 eastern North Dakota counties chose a congressman in a special election.

The result of the race between Republican Mark Andrews and Democrat John Hove is expected to provide a clue to electoral sentiment in farm areas.

Andrews, 38, rancher and former GOP national committeeman was a slight favorite in the traditionally Republican district. His political future was regarded as being on the line after his 2,007-vote loss to Democratic Gov. William L. Guy last year.

Viewed also as a threat to Andrews is the candidacy of John Scott, 61, wealthy farmer-banker from Gilby. Scott decided to run as an independent because he said the Republican convention did not nominate a candidate conservative enough to suit him. He has denied being a member of the John Birch Society but has attacked both regular candidates as too liberal.

Hove, making his first bid for office, had Gov. Guy running interference for him during much of the brief campaign. Hove, 47, is a university English professor who made much in his talks of having spent the first half of his life on a farm.

Andrews, using the defeat of the wheat referendum earlier this year, has banged away at the Kennedy administration's farm, economic and foreign aid programs. He has been a constant critic of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Andrews favors crop controls but at county levels.

Hove, generally backing Kennedy policies, has been reluctant in his speeches to identify himself with Freeman. He, too, favors a voluntary system of controls but has not spelled one out in detail.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A layer of heavy fog drifted over areas of Ohio at daybreak today, dropping visibilities to zero. The fog was expected to burn off early this morning with mostly sunny skies and continued dry weather after midmorning.

The morning weather map showed high pressure from the Ohio Valley to New England and a general area of low pressure through the upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Plains States.

Showers associated with the low pressure area appeared over Wisconsin and Northern Michigan. These showers were traveling toward the northeast and prospects were not favorable for any of the rainfall reaching Ohio in the next 24 to 36 hours.

Considerable sunshine was forecast for today and Wednesday with above normal temperatures.

This morning temperatures ranged from 45 at Cleveland and Columbus to 56 at Toledo. Cincinnati had 49 and Akron 51.

Castro Orders Price Raise To Aid Flood Control Work

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro has announced that his government is raising the price of beef, poultry, beer and cigarettes to help pay for a $200-million flood control program in hurricane-devastated Oriente Province.

In a three-hour television report Monday night on Hurricane Flora, Castro also accused the United States of withholding weather information from Cuban meteorologists during the storm.

He said a charge by the United States that Cuba had refused to allow flights of U.S. hurricane spotter planes over Cuba was "absolutely false."

Castro demanded lifting of the U.S. economic blockade because of the hurricane disaster.

"What we only ask," he said, "is that they cease a blockade on a country which has suffered a disaster of this kind."

The prime minister said a massive public works program for Oriente Province, in eastern Cuba, will include dams and flood control systems so there will never be a repetition of Flora's floods, which ruined crops.

Admitting heavy losses in the sugar crop, Cuba's principal earner of foreign currency, Castro said the price increases are necessary to buy heavy building equipment for the reconstruction program.

He said beef would be hiked to 55 cents a pound and poultry to 65 cents, while 5-cent increases would be added to cigarettes, now 10 cents a pack, and beer, now 25 cents a bottle.

Castro said the hurricane which swept the island two weeks ago had probably taken hundreds more lives than the

It is an interesting phenomenon of politics that so many people regard a man as qualified for elective office merely because he is successful and popular in another field. Many are, of course.

Thousands of men have gone from success in law, business, education or industry to success in politics. Conversely, how many dog catchers have risen through the ranks of elective office to the White House? But sometimes the political scouts range rather far afield.

Thus there have been generals who became President. And thus there have been attempts to get men like Charles Lindbergh and John Glenn into politics. So far neither major party has tried to draft a movie star or teenage singing idol, and it's probably just as well. The latest prominent American to figure in such a situation is Bud Wilkinson, University of Oklahoma football coach. Rumors have been rife for months that Wilkinson would run for something or other in Oklahoma, on one ticket or the other. The latest report is that he'll seek a Senate seat as a Republican.

Wilkinson might be as great a statesman as he has been a coach. But it seems curious that so many people are eager for him to run without knowing what his views are on issues, or even which party — if either — he belongs to.

In politics, the first question asked about a possible candidate is: Can he get elected?

Research Soars

Research and development have become not only a vital lifeline sustaining industrial expansion, but it is also one of the largest single items in the national budget. R and D as an industrial necessity is generally recognized, but some critics are beginning to ask questions about the government's increasing role in this field.

Few answers are available to questions like, what is the government receiving in return for its expected $15 billion research and development expenditure this year? With the government accounting for two-thirds of the total research and development budget in the United States, what effect does this have on industrial R and D needs and the inadequate manpower available for this specialized work?

More answers will be available after a special House investigation panel completes its one-year study of the government's role in the 150,000 research projects underway in any given year. No one has doubts that the government effect is great.

The question really centers on whether or not the concentration of research projects under the auspices of the federal government is producing the anticipated results and utilizing the available facilities most economically.

An indication of the scope of the government's R and D activity is apparent in the diverse wings of government involved. Nearly 40 agencies of government sponsor research, but 90 per cent is controlled by the Defense Department, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Health Education and Welfare, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the National Science Foundation.

Seventy-five per cent of the funds are channeled out of Washington into industrial laboratories, educational institutions and private research groups. College and university research departments, which account for only about 9 per cent of all such expenditures, have watched their slice of the total grow from $50 million to $2 billion in the last 25 years.

With nearly half of the nation's scientists and one-third of its engineers working in research, the importance of R and D as an allocator of highly trained manpower is obvious. Not so apparent is whether this allocation is in the best interests of the country.

Considering the scope of the subject, the House panel of nine men charged with producing some of the answers is the next year has its work cut out for it.

The population explosion re-unprecedented recently with an unprecendented series of multiple births, all anxious to join the human race at the same time.

Quintuplets in Venezuela were followed in rapid succession by quadruplets in Iran and in Mississippi. Triplets born in Texas and in Switzerland raised only a mild flurry of excitement. Numerous twins born throughout the world, alas, barely caused a raised eyebrow.

Suddenly each proud community was involved in a "race for space" to house the quads and quints.

The world had barely settled down to a normal state of expansion when another population explosion was reported. Quintuplets were born in South Dakota.

All this in a period of two weeks!

Twins are always greeted enthusiastically. Triplets are unusual enough to deserve newspaper coverage. Quads, of course, are rapturously welcomed, but even they are soon allowed to take normal places in the realm of reality.

But the magic number is five! The parents of quintuplets are barely allowed the luxury of counting and of adding them to the family total before they are unofficially adopted by township, city, state and nation.

Since quintuplet births occur only once in every 54,000,000 births, there is an understandable reason for such rejoicing.

Multiple births have always been of extreme interest to doctors and geneticists. Their frequency starts with mathematical gentleness. Twins are born in one out of 80 pregnancies; quads, one in 500,000; quints, one in 54,000,000.

Water Boy Got the Prize

By John Chamberlain

I don't know much about the Nobel Peace Prize judges' personal or social predilections, but on the face of it their collective journalistic sense, to say nothing of their logic, is absolutely wacky.

Here they've gone and handed the Nobel Peace Prize for 1962 to Dr. Linus Carl Pauling, the California chemist who had previously won a Nobel award for his scientific attainments. Dr. Pauling's labors in the cause of peace have consisted mainly of picketing and signing petitions hither and yon calling for suspension of nuclear tests. The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has taken a dim view of some of the company that Dr. Pauling has kept in his labors in behalf of peace. He refused to identify persons who had helped him circulate petitions to the UN calling for a cessation of nuclear bomb tests. This was Dr. Pauling's right under the Constitution, and I believe in the Constitution.

What I don't believe in is this business of giving a man a prize when he is merely filled the role of water boy for a team of star players. I can think of thirty or forty people who did more to bring about the ban on nuclear testing than Dr. Pauling ever did. There's Bernard Baruch, for example, who, ages ago, pointed out the danger of permitting the two great post-war powers, the U. S. and Soviet Russia, to toss the atom around without regard to inhibitions. There's Dwight Eisenhower himself, who wanted to crown his labors as President by negotiating a test ban with proper inspection safeguards. There's President John F. Kennedy, who adapted the Eisenhower proposal to a period in which secrecy in testing is no longer easy. There's Averell Harriman, who did Kennedy's negotiating in Moscow. There's Republican Senator Ev Dirksen, who ranged a majority of his own party in the Senate behind the Test-Ban Treaty. Finally, there's Nikita Khrushchev who didn't need Dr. Pauling to tell him that atomic fall-out can penetrate the skin of a muzhik in the Russian Kuban as easily as it can fall on the caribou meat consumed by an eskimo in northern Alaska.

If the test-ban is the test of peaceful accomplishment in the contemporary world, clearly the Nobel Prize should have been split among such major team players as Baruch, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Harriman, Dirksen and Khrushchev, with Nikita possibly getting half the money for doing all the work on the Soviet side of the fence.

But since it is this column's contention that wars spring less from armaments than they do from major disagreements that cannot be cosed by negotiation, I think the Nobel Committee would have been just as much off base in giving the prize to Baruch, Kennedy, Khrushchev and Company, as they were in giving it to water boy Pauling.

Peace being a state of mind, a disposition, the Nobel Committee ought, sometime, to use a little journalistic enterprise in uncovering men and women who really do something to promote amity between peoples. I can think of one man, far less flashy than Dr. Pauling, who has done wonders over the past fifteen years to get individuals in various nations to love, or at least to respect, each other. This man is the 75-year-old Stephen Galatti, the Director-General of the American Field Service, an organization that turned its attention from ambulance driving in World War II to a valiant post-war program of bringing foreign students to the United States for their last high school year and placing them in sympathetic American families throughout the country. Since the start of this program in 1947, more than 13,000 boys and girls from sixty-six nations have come to the United States and returned home with strong ties to our country. And, doing the same sort of thing the other way around, more than 8,300 Americans have gone abroad to live with foreign families for a summer or for a final year of high school education.

Mr. Galatti, who drove an ambulance in World War I for the original American Field Service, is a member of the famous Harvard Class of 1910 which includes such intellectual luminaries as Walter Lippman and Stuart Chase. At the age of 75 he puts in a twelve-hour day at his student exchange job, making the acquaintance of each and every boy and girl who comes from Finland, Malagasy, Laos or wherever to study in this country. Mr. Galatti gets a token subvention from the State Department, but the vase bulk of the money he needs to run his service — it comes to $700 per student per year — has to be raised by his own evangelistic efforts.

It's dollars to doughnuts that the Nobel Prize Committee never heard of Mr. Galatti. But then, he never marched in a picket line.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 22, the 295th day of 1963. There are 70 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1854 Negro songwriter James Bland, who authored "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," was born.

In 1746, a charter was granted for the College of New Jersey which became Princeton University in 1896.

In 1836, Sam Houston was elected president of the Republic of Texas.

In 1941, the Germans executed 50 Frenchmen in reprisal for the assassination of one Nazi officer during World War II.

In 1945, Allied occupation authorities announced equal rights for all Germans and repealed Nazi laws granting special privileges to certain individuals.

Ten years ago—France signed a treaty granting full independence and sovereignty to the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Laos but within the French union.

Five years ago — Thirty-one persons died when a British air liner collided with an Italian military jet fighter in almost clear skies near Rome.

One year ago — President Kennedy imposed a naval and air blockade on shipment of military equipment to Cuba and blamed Russia for endangering the peace of the Western Hemisphere.

A U.S. Court of Appeals charged Barnett and Johnson with contempt of court for their part in the obstruction to Meredith.

But—was it constitutional for the appellate court to try them without a jury? Or should they have a jury trial?

Monday and today lawyers for Barnett and Johnson went before the Supreme Court to argue they must have a jury trial and asking the court to reverse that 1958 ruling in the case of the two Communists.

In their written argument the Mississippians' lawyers now say they think the dissenting opinion of Justice Warren, Black and Douglas in 1958 were right.

It's not likely that if the court now rules that Barnett and Johnson are entitled to jury trial for contempt of court that Eastland will look upon it as following the Communist line.

Army Plans Buildup in Fire Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional modern artillery, including nuclear missiles and rockets, is going to Europe and the Pacific to further build up battlefield strength of the ground forces, the Army announced today.

It said additional Sergeant missiles—nuclear weapons with a range of about 75 miles—are being stationed in Europe.

The Army also said it is developing an improved version of the Honest John rocket, with a range of 15 to 20 miles and "larger numbers of nuclear warheads" for the eight-inch Howitzer artillery.

A new 175 mm non-nuclear self-propelled gun also is being sent to forces in Europe and the Pacific.

"This program, which the U.S. has discussed with its Allies, will produce an over-all increase in the quality and quantity of artillery fire power," the statement said.

It contained no totals on the number of weapons involved.

The announcement made no mention of nor gave any indication that the United States is beginning to consider the eventual reduction of American forces stationed in Europe and elsewhere overseas.

A buildup in fire power, such as that announced today, could be a preliminary step toward reduction of manpower without corresponding reduction in hitting strength of ground forces.

Teen-Age Buying Consistent

EDITOR'S NOTE — How do the teen-agers spend the billions of dollars at their disposal? This second of two articles reports on where their money goes and what it means to the economy.

Today's Business Mirror

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Donald Moger gets $10 a week allowance from his parents and spends it all.

This New York teen-ager's spending habits are fairly typical of the 9 million boys aged 14 to 17, who, along with teenage girls, make up a mammoth market that has emerged since World War II.

Those boys spend $16 billion

a year on everything from hot dogs to cars.

Donald, who boosts his spending power with part-time jobs, spends his money on clothing, records, hot rod books, refreshments, dates and a wide variety of other things.

Clothes are the top spending item for both boys and girls. They use their own money except for big ticket items such as coats, suit and dresses.

"Someone sets the style — the leader in the group," says Donald. "Someone will buy tight pants and then we all will."

Despite the tendency to follow the leader and an affinity for fads, teen-agers generally get an "A" from market analysts for their purchases.

Some market experts say they are better shoppers than their parents.

"They're rather astute in the selection of wearing apparel," says Morton Minsky, president of Diamond Sales Corp., a 30-year-old New York consultant firm that concentrates on the boys market.

"They latch onto fads but these fads have to be in good taste."

Girls spend $300 million a year, an average of $29 each, on phonograph records, accounting for 50 per cent of all record sales.

They spend $180 million a year buying one-fourth of all greeting cards sold.

Their annual bill for apparel is $3.6 billion and for footwear $562 million.

Teen-age girls, representing 11 per cent of the female population, account for 22 per cent of women's cosmetic sales.

All told, 11,116,000 girls spend $6.3 billion a year.

As for boys, it is estimated that 50 per cent of high school seniors own cars 86 per cent own a rifle or gun, 76 per cent use hair tonic, 72.2 per cent own electric trains and 17.9 per cent own typewriters.

'Writing Is Lonely Life' Noted Playwright Claims

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico (AP) — Tennessee Williams sat in a hotel bar and stared at his first martini. "Writing is a lonely life," he said.

He wore only bathing trunks and a luxuriant Van Dyke beard. It was the end of a humid afternoon on the Pacific shore.

The American playwright had come to this tropical resort to write some new scenes for the film version of his play, "Night of the Iguana." Although producer Ray Stark was prepared to pay him a small fortune,

Williams asked only for his expenses.

As he sipped the martini, he seemed world-weary.

"I usually do my writing in Key West," he said. "There is no social life there, and that suits me. I avoid all social contact. I think a writer must."

"Nobody but a writer knows how exhausting it is to write, nobody except perhaps a writer's wife. She knows what hell he goes through and how little he is paid for his efforts."

"I can only write three or four hours a day. After that I'm emotionally worn out."

Williams, who is not married, said he knows a few writers but generally he avoids fellow craftsmen.

When Williams finishes here, he will attend to some business in New York and then go to Key West to work on one of three plays he has in mind. His contribution to this season in New York will be a rewrite of last year's "The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Any More."

"It is about 65 per cent rewritten," he said. "I thought it might be valuable to get a new concept of the play and a new company. It came out during the newspaper strike and ran only 69 performances. I thought it was worth doing again."

New York Firm To Buy Stock

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Trap Rock Corp. of West Nyack, N. Y., announced it will buy all voting stock of the Fryer Co., based in Dayton, Ohio.

President Don Wood of the 47-year-old fire detection and equipment firm, said in Dayton that the sale will not interrupt production and may even mean expansion.

New York Trapped Rock produces crushed stone and aggregate.

Terms of the sale were not disclosed.

Life Sentence Looms

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ollie Payne, 60, of Loveland faces a life sentence in prison in the shotgun death last Sept. 2 of Albert Joseph Brice, 54, of Blue Ash. Judge Simon Leis set the penalty Monday after Payne pleaded guilty to second-degree murder.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's odd what time does.

Take the case of two Communists in 1958, Gilbert Green and Henry Winston, and today take the case of two Mississippians, Gov. Ro Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr.

Another Mississippian, Sen. James O. Eastland, constant critic of the Supreme Court, figures in this, too. Lawyers for Barnett and Johnson were arguing for both of them today before the court.

In 1949 Green and Winston were two of 11 top Communist leaders convicted in U.S. District Court—after a jury trial—of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government. They were sentenced to five years.

Lausche Says Seaway Use Only Modest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Great Lakes Seaway is realizing only a modest proportion of available traffic and it is doubtful it will reach its estimated potential in 1965 of 68.2 million tons, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Monday.

At existing toll rates, Lausche said, 50 million tons a year are needed to liquidate the $130 million invested in the Seaway.

"With proper assistance, Seaway traffic can, at existing toll rates, assure coverage of the full cost of making the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence system a Seaway with an impressive future," he said.

"Without corrective measures, the Seaway will fall into functional obsolescence far short of its 50-year accounting lifetime."

Lausche said Seaway tolls must be maintained at their present level as increased charges would surely preclude development of new cargo.

So far this year, the total tonnage of the Seaway is 18 per cent ahead of last year's which was 25,593,600 tons, he said.

The Seaway opened in 1959. Lausche said imbalance in inland freight rate schedules favoring East Coast and Gulf Coast ports precludes the Seaway's realization of its full potential.

"Out of a total of 22.8 million tons of freight moved by the government in 1962, only 160,000 tons moved through the Seaway," he said.

Charter Issued For Newspaper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown issued a charter today to Ace News Inc. for "publication of a newspaper of general circulation in Heath and Licking County."

Incorporators Thomas H. Williams, Jack M. Foulk and Phyllis M. Blake.

Gordon H. Gainer Sr. of Heath is statutory agent. Starting capital was $500 and the stock issue was 500 shares of no par common.

The Communists appealed to the Supreme Court which in 1951 upheld their conviction. Green and Winston jumped bond and scrambled. They were fugitives for years.

They were then given an additional three-year sentence for contempt of court—this sentence stemmed from their flight—by the U.S. District Court without a jury trial.

When they were caught they appealed this sentence, too, to the Supreme Court, arguing it was unconstitutional to be tried by a court without a jury.

In 1958 the Supreme Court, by a 5-4 vote, again turned them down. The majority voting against them were Justices John M. Harlan, Tom C. Clark, Charles E. Whitaker, Harold H. Burton and Felix Frankfurter.

Whittaker, Burton and Frankfurter have since left the court. In their places now are Arthur J. Goldberg, Byron White and Potter Stewart.

But the four dissenters who voted against the Communists' contempt conviction in 1958 are still on the court: Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan.

Brennan didn't dissent on constitutional grounds about trial by jury. He just said he considered the evidence against Green and Winston insufficient to convict them.

The other three agreed the Communists had a right to trial by jury for contempt.

Four years later—on May 2, 1962—Eastland made a blazing attack on the court with a list going back for years, on how the individual justices had voted in Communist cases.

He said the vote of Warren, Douglas, Black and Brennan against the conviction of Green and Winston for contempt was a vote "in accordance with positions advocated by Communist."

He put this in the Congressional Record.

But later in 1962 James H. Meredith, a Negro, wanted to enter the University of Mississippi. A federal court ordered Barnett and Johnson not to interfere with Meredith's admission. They interfered.

Before Meredith finally got into the school there was a riot, two men were killed, and President Kennedy had to use troops and U.S. marshals to get Meredith in. He graduated this year.

A U.S. Court of Appeals charged Barnett and Johnson with contempt of court for their part in the obstruction to Meredith. But—is it constitutional for the appellate court to try them without a jury? Or should they have a jury trial?

Monday and today lawyers for Barnett and Johnson went before the Supreme Court to argue they must have a jury trial and asking the court to reverse that 1958 ruling in the case of the two Communists.

In their written argument the Mississippians' lawyers now say they think the dissenting opinion of Justice Warren, Black and Douglas in 1958 were right.

It's not likely that if the court now rules that Barnett and Johnson are entitled to jury trial for contempt of court that Eastland will look upon it as following the Communist line.

Court Refuses To Rule on Clothesline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to rule on the question whether householders have a right to protest city taxes by stringing clotheslines filled with tattered clothing in the front and side yards of their property.

Dr. and Mrs. Webster Stover used that method of making a "peaceful protest" at their one-family house in a residential section of Rye, N.Y. A city ordinance bans signs, bulletins, billboards and such means of publicizing their grievance.

After being denied various requests for tax relief, the Stovers in 1956 hung out the first line, filled with old clothes and rags. Each year for the next five years, upon further denials of tax relief, they added another clothesline.

In 1961 the city passed an ordinance banning clotheslines on front and side yards, but Stover did not remove his lines. He paid one $25 fine and on a second conviction was sentenced to $100 fine or 30 days in jail. Stover was confined 11 days before being released on $500 bail pending appeals.

The Supreme Court ordered dismissal of the appeal with a notation that it involved no substantial federal question.

Congress Rapped

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, has charged that the Democratic-controlled Congress is "doing a superb job of rejecting ridiculous measures."

The 14th District congressman said Monday night that 95 per cent of President Kennedy's requests have been passed over "because there is no popular demand for them." He made the remarks before the Cuyahoga Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tricks of this nature, he pointed out, can cause serious accidents and will not be tolerated. Highway patrolmen will be on the lookout for anyone who include such pranks in their activities and will track down those responsible.

Youthful trick or treaters too were reminded to be careful crossing streets. "Remember," the Sergeant said, "that masks and false face cut down vision. So make sure before you cross."

Parents were urged to supervise their children's activities during the goblin season so that an accident in traffic won't mar this time for youth.

"Keep it clean and play it safe so we can all enjoy ourselves this Halloween season," the Sergeant concluded.

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Donald Moger gets $10 a week allowance from his parents and spends it all.

This New York teen-ager's spending habits are fairly typical of the 9 million boys aged 14 to 17, who, along with teenage girls, make up a mammoth market that has emerged since World War II.

Those boys spend $16 billion

a year on everything from hot dogs to cars.

Donald, who boasts his spending power with part-time jobs, spends his money on clothing, records, hot rod books, refreshments, dates and a wide variety of other things.

Clothes are the top spending item for both boys and girls. They use their own money except for big ticket items such as coats, suit and dresses.

"Someone sets the style — the leader in the group," says Donald. "Someone will buy tight pants and then we all will."

Despite the tendency to follow the leader and an affinity for fads, teen-agers generally get an "A" from market analysts for their purchases.

Some market experts say

they are better shoppers than their parents.

"They're rather astute in the selection of wearing apparel," says Morton Minsky, president of Diamond Sales Corp., a 30-year-old New York consultant firm that concentrates on the boys market.

"They latch onto fads but these fads have to be in good taste."

Girls spend $300 million a year, an average of $29 each, on phonograph records, accounting for 50 per cent of all record sales.

They spend $180 million a year buying one-fourth of all greeting cards sold.

Their annual bill for apparel is $3.6 billion and for footwear $562 million.

Teen-age girls, representing 11 per cent of the female population, account for 22 per cent of women's cosmetic sales.

All told, 11,116,000 girls spend $6.3 billion a year.

As for boys, it is estimated that 50 per cent of high school seniors own cars 86 per cent own or use a camera, 39 per cent own a rifle or gun, 76 per cent own hair tonic, 72.2 per cent own electric trains and 17.9 per cent own typewriters.

Rhodes Says Ohio Could Be No. 1

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes says passage of the proposed extension of a cigarette tax could place Ohio No. 1 in the nation in the field of higher education.

In a news conference here Monday, Rhodes said he felt the bond issue, which would raise an estimated $250 million is much better than a state income tax which had been proposed.

Following the news conference Rhodes conducted a public meeting for citizens of northwestern Ohio in the new Findlay High School.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's odd what time does.

Take the case of two Communists in 1958, Gilbert Green and Henry Winston, and today take the case of two Mississippians, Gov. Ro Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr.

Another Mississippian, Sen. James O. Eastland, constant critic of the Supreme Court, figures in this, too. Lawyers for Barnett and Johnson were arguing for both of them today before the court.

In 1949 Green and Winston were two of 11 top Communist leaders convicted in U.S. District Court—after a jury trial of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government. They were sentenced to five years.

Lausche Says Seaway Use Only Modest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Great Lakes Seaway is realizing only a modest proportion of available traffic and it is doubtful it will reach its estimated potential in 1965 of 65.2 million tons, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Monday.

At existing toll rates, Lausche said, 50 million tons a year are needed to liquidate the $130 million invested in the Seaway.

"With proper assistance, Seaway traffic can, at existing toll rates, assure coverage of the full cost of making the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence system a Seaway with an impressive future," he said.

"Without corrective measures, the Seaway will fall into functional obsolescence far short of its 50-year accounting lifetime."

Lausche said Seaway tolls must be maintained at their present level as increased charges would surely preclude development of new cargo.

So far this year, the total tonnage of the Seaway is 18 per cent ahead of last year's which was 25,593,600 tons, he said.

The Seaway opened in 1959. Lausche said imbalance in inland freight rate schedules favoring East Coast and Gulf Coast ports precludes the Seaway's realization of its full potential.

"Out of a total of 22.8 million tons of freight moved by the government in 1962, only 160,000 tons moved through the Seaway," he said.

Charter Issued For Newspaper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown issued a charter today to Ace News Inc. for "publication of a newspaper of general circulation in Heath and Licking County."

Incorporators Thomas H. Williams, Jack M. Foulk and Phyllis M. Blake.

Gordon H. Gainer Sr. of Heath is statutory agent. Starting capital was $500 and the stock issue was 500 shares of no par common.

The Communists appealed to the Supreme Court which in 1951 upheld their conviction. Green and Winston jumped bond and scrambled. They were fugitives for years.

They were then given an additional three-year sentence for contempt of court—this sentence stemmed from their flight—by the U.S. District Court without a jury trial.

When they were caught they appealed this sentence, too, to the Supreme Court, arguing it was unconstitutional to be tried by a court without a jury.

In 1958 the Supreme Court, by a 5-4 vote, again turned them down. The majority voting against them were Justices John M. Harlan, Tom C. Clark, Charles E. Whitaker, Harold H. Burton and Felix Frankfurter.

Whittaker, Burton and Frankfurter have since left the court. In their places now are Arthur J. Goldberg, Byron White and Potter Stewart.

But the four dissenters who voted against the Communists' contempt conviction in 1958 are still on the court: Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan.

Brennan didn't dissent on constitutional grounds about trial by jury. He just said he considered the evidence against Green and Winston insufficient to convict them.

The other three agreed the Communists had a right to trial by jury for contempt.

Four years later—on May 2, 1962—Eastland made a blazing attack on the court with a list going back for years, on how the individual justices had voted in Communist cases.

He said the vote of Warren, Douglas, Black and Brennan against the conviction of Green

Arraignment Continues

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The arraignment of David H. Zirwar, 28, on a first-degree murder charge has been continued indefinitely. William M. Hewitt, lawyer for Zirwar, said Monday he was not ready to enter a plea for his client until he knows the results of medical tests.

Zirwar was declared mentally incompetent in Probate Court here in 1959 and has not since then been declared mentally competent by the court, Hewitt said. Zirwar is accused of the fatal shooting in Niles, of Benjamin Krawiecki, 42, of Youngstown.

and Winston for contempt was a vote "in accordance with positions advocated by Communist. He put this in the Congressional Record.

But later in 1962 James H. Meredith, a Negro, wanted to enter the University of Mississippi. A federal court ordered Barnett and Johnson not to interfere with Meredith's admittance. They interfered.

Before Meredith finally got into the school there was a riot, two men were killed, and President Kennedy had to use troops and U.S. marshals to get Meredith in. He graduated this year.

A U.S. Court of Appeals charged Barnett and Johnson with contempt of court for their part in the obstruction to Meredith. But—is it constitutional for the appellate court to try them without a jury? Or should they have a jury trial?

Monday and today lawyers for Barnett and Johnson went before the Supreme Court to argue they must have a jury trial and asking the court to reverse that 1958 ruling in the case of the two Communists.

In their written argument the Mississippians' lawyers now say they think the dissenting opinion of Justice Warren, Black and Douglas in 1958 were right.

It's not likely that if the court now rules that Barnett and Johnson are entitled to jury trial for contempt of court that Eastland will look upon it as following the Communist line.

Court Refuses To Rule on Clothesline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to rule on the question whether householders have a right to protest city taxes by stringing clotheslines filled with tattered clothing in the front and side yards of their property.

Dr. and Mrs. Webster Stover used that method of making a "peaceful protest" at their one-family house in a residential section of Rye, N.Y. A city ordinance bans signs, bulletins, billboards and such means of publicizing their grievance.

After being denied various requests for tax relief, the Stovers in 1956 hung out the first line, filled with old clothes and rags. Each year for the next five years, upon further denials of tax relief, they added another clothesline.

In 1961 the city passed an ordinance banning clotheslines on front and side yards, but Stover did not remove his lines. He paid one $25 fine and on a second conviction was sentenced to $100 fine or 30 days in jail. Stover was confined 11 days before being released on $500 bail pending appeals.

The Supreme Court ordered dismissal of the appeal with a notation that it involved no substantial federal question.

Congress Rapped

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, has charged that the Democratic-controlled Congress is "doing a superb job of rejecting ridiculous measures."

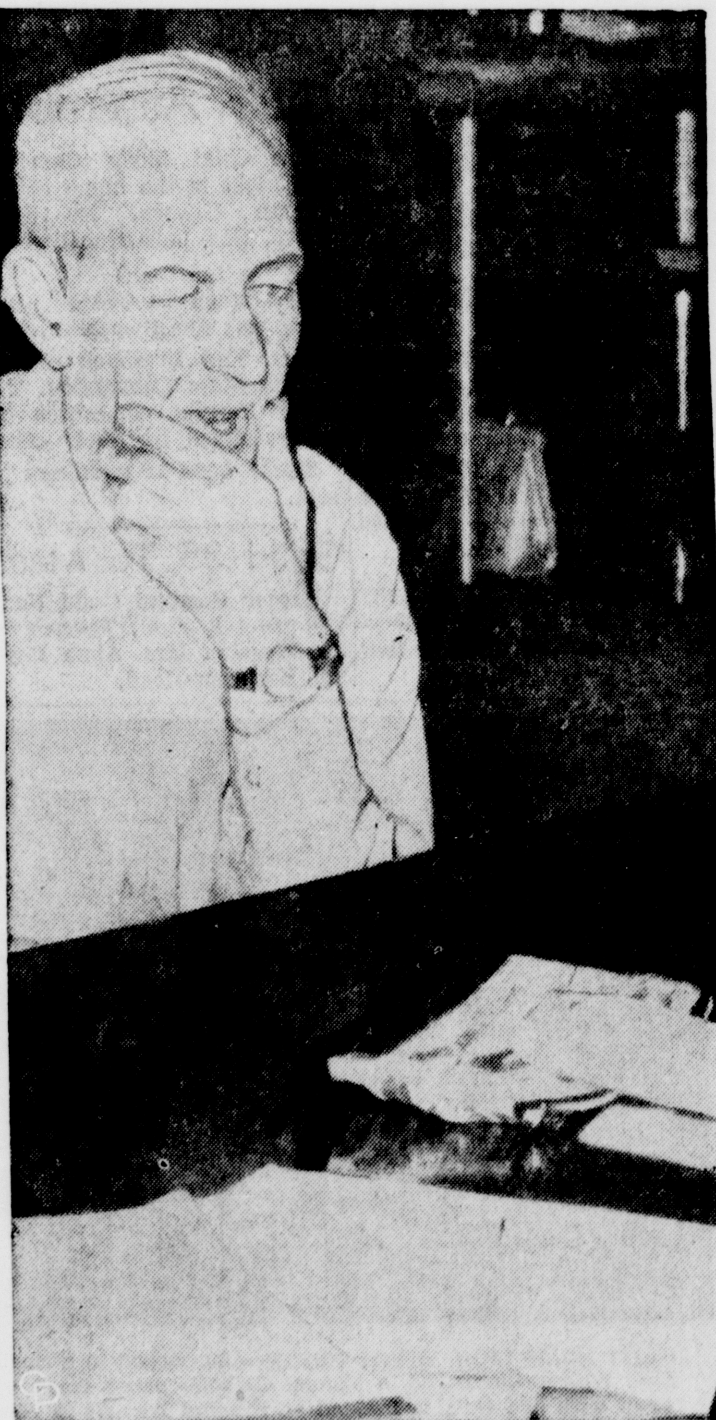

The 14th District congressman said Monday night that 95 per cent of President Kennedy's requests have been passed over "because there is no popular demand for them." He made the remarks before the Cuyahoga Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Place Is at Home, Deer!

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are having an argument and have agreed to let you settle it. I made plans to go deer hunting from December 13th through December 22nd. My wife is expecting her second baby on December 14th, and she wants me to be home to take her to the hospital. Our first baby came two weeks late and I have a hunch this one will, too. My wife says she has a hunch this one will be on time. If I am needed, I can get back home in 12 hours. I can't change the date of the trip because I am going with two other men and all the plans are set. Don't you think I should plan to go?

DEER HUNTER
DEAR DEER HUNTER: Tell your friends to go without you. A deer in the cradle is worth two on the fender.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine has two different colored eyes. One is brown and the other is blue. I once knew a bull dog with the same thing. Does it mean anything? Is this common in either animals or humans? How does something like this happen?

CURIOUS
DEAR CURIOUS: Having two different colored eyes occurs only occasionally in man and beast — an in birds, too. (Not fish—their eyes are colorless. It's a freak of nature, indicating that the color chromosomes went a little wild.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and my husband is 26. We have three lovely children who mean the world to us. Yesterday while my husband was sleeping, I went into his wallet to get some snapshots of our children to show a neighbor. I came across a picture of a young, pretty girl, and written on the front was, "To Wally with love from Birdie." On the back in my husband's handwriting, was a phone number, so I called her up. She said she didn't know any "Wally" and she hung up on me. When I asked my husband about it, he admitted he had been seeing her at a bar every Friday night for a few months, but that was all there was to it. He swore he loved me and said if I forgave him he'd never see her again. What should I do? I am all broken up.

ALL BROKEN UP
DEAR BROKEN: Double your efforts to be everything a man wants in a wife. Nagging, recrimination and coolness will only give him good reason to turn his attentions elsewhere again. Tell him you forgive him and then really forgive him, and put it out of your mind.

Ohio Couple Seeking Aid For Indians

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Holland, Ohio, couple, moved by the death of a 10-month-old Indian boy they had planned to adopt, have started a drive to help some of the 1,500 Indians at Cheyenne Village in Lane Deer, Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery R. Elkington said Monday they are trying to prevent other Indian children from suffering the same fate as Arthur Big Head, the child they wanted to adopt.

The Elkingtons, parents of three children, became interested in the Indians problem two years ago. During a recent vacation trip they decided to adopt the boy and his 3-year-old sister, Mathilda, after visiting the Cheyenne reservation.

The Elkingtons said they started home with the boy after making adoption arrangements for him and his sister and receiving assurances from a doctor that they could travel.

"It's just inconceivable that something like this could happen in the land of plenty," said Elkington, a sales representative for a Chicago firm.

College Aid Bill Sent Back To House

Construction Outlay Seen Having Better Chance This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent back to the House an amended $1.9-billion college construction aid bill. But prospects for final enactment still are uncertain.

Long-time supporters of such federal outlays noted that while both branches passed a college bill last year the final compromise product worked out in conference died in the House. But they said there appears to be more favorable factors this time.

The Senate gave a solid 60-19 vote to the bill Monday, with 41 Democrats and 19 Republicans favoring it, while 11 Democrats, all Southerners, and 8 Republicans voted no. The House passed the bill 287 to 113 Aug. 14.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., chief sponsor of the legislation in the House, said she was hopeful the measure could be sent to conference promptly.

There is one big difference in the two bills, an issue growing out of the church-state relationship.

The grant funds in the Senate bill could be used only for buildings intended for instruction or research in natural and physical sciences and engineering and for libraries. The House version would permit spending on all types of buildings.

The limitations were put in the Senate measure in deference to senators who felt that grants to religious colleges could well violate the separation of church and state doctrine.

Both versions of the measure contain grant and loan funds for new classrooms in public and private four-year colleges, community, junior colleges, technical institutes and graduate schools.

Troops That Led Buddhist Raids Get No U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is cutting off assistance to the South Vietnamese special force troops that led government raids against Buddhist pagodas.

They will get no more U.S. help until they are assigned to field duty against Communist guerrillas.

The action, announced Monday by the State Department, is a direct challenge to Ngo Dinh Nhu, brother of South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem and reportedly the behind-the-scenes ruler in Saigon.

It is also, State Department officials said, in line with President Kennedy's announced policy—the United States will support what helps the war effort and will not support what does not.

The troops are an elite airborne corps numbering about 8,000. Beside military assistance they have been receiving about $300,000 a month from the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency for special antiguerrilla warfare.

Headed by Col. Le Quang Tung, a devoted supporter of Nhu, about 4,000 of them were placed on special duty in August. In this role they led the government raids against Buddhist pagodas. An estimated 2,000 or more remain in Saigon, serving—according to some reports—as a palace guard to protect Nhu from domestic opposition.

Apple halves, sauerkraut and frankfurters can be cooked together in a large skillet. Leave the apples unpeeled but core them; brown them in a little skillet before adding the kraut and franks. Sprinkle the apples and kraut with a little brown sugar.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

Place Is at Home, Deer!

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are having an argument and have agreed to let you settle it. I made plans to go deer hunting from December 13th through December 22nd. My wife is expecting her second baby on December 14th, and she wants me to be home to take her to the hospital. Our first baby came two weeks late and I have a hunch this one will, too. My wife says she has a hunch this one will be on time. If I am needed, I can get back home in 12 hours. I can't change the date of the trip because I am going with two other men and all the plans are set. Don't you think I should plan to go?

DEER HUNTER

DEAR DEER HUNTER: Tell your friends to go without you. A deer in the cradle is worth two on the fender.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine has two different colored eyes. One is brown and the other one is blue. I once knew a bull dog with the same thing. Does it mean anything? Is this common in either animals or humans? How does something like this happen?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Having two different colored eyes occurs only occasionally in man and beast — an in birds, too. (Not fish—their eyes are colorless. It's a freak of nature, indicating that the color chromosomes went a little wild.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and my husband is 26. We have three lovely children who mean the world to us. Yesterday while my husband was sleeping, I went into his wallet to get some snapshots of our children to show a neighbor. I came across a picture of a young, pretty girl, and written on the front was, "To Wally with love from Birdie." On the back in my husband's handwriting, was a phone number, so I called her up. She said she didn't know any "Wally" and she hung up on me. When I asked my husband about it, he admitted he had been seeing her at a bar every Friday night for a few months, but that was all there was to it. He swore he loved me and said if I forgave him he'd never see her again. What should I do? I am all broken up.

ALL BROKEN UP

DEAR BROKEN: Double your efforts to be everything a man wants in a wife. Nagging recrimination and coolness will only give him good reason to turn his attentions elsewhere again. Tell him you forgive him and then really forgive him, and put it out of your mind.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F. AND H.: You could live on a lot less if you had a little more to live for.

Firemen's Ban Is Rescinded

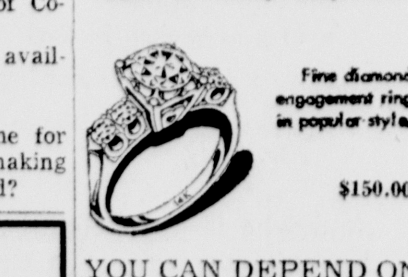

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County Firemen's Association has rescinded its ban on hunting.

The association, composed of volunteer firemen throughout the county, decided on the ban Sunday at the same time a ban was placed on open fires in the county.

They rescinded the order Monday, the first day of duck hunting in Ohio, after learning they do not have authority to ban hunting, which is controlled by state authorities.

Legion of Workers Involved In Making Game Enjoyable

The Friday night game between the Tiger teams of Greenfield and Circleville will be the last home game of the current season for the Red and Black.

A great deal of time and effort goes into making these home games both possible and more enjoyable for the local fans.

The legion of workers at every game include the public address system announcer, the game officials, the operators of the scoreboard, ushers, ticket sellers and takers, refreshment booth workers and many others.

Bill Stout is the vocal young man who makes the game easier for the average fan to follow by announcing over the public address system the ball carrier, the yards gained or lost, the tacklers, and many other things. Stout has been handling these chores since 1958.

BUT HIS work would be difficult indeed if it were not for Charles Walters, the spotter for the Circleville team. Each opponent also furnishes a spotter. Keeping track of the time on the board is Tom Elsea. Although the official time is kept on the field, fans have a good indication of the time remaining by following the scoreboard clock.

And handling the scoreboard itself is Dave Bircher. These persons, along with the members of the press, occupy the press box on the north side of the field.

Up on top of the press box is Stan Spring, the Circleville camera man, who films every game for the coaching staff.

The football field itself is cared for by Cecil Sowers and Junior Conrad. They mow and irrigate the field, and mark it prior to each game.

Ticket sales are handled at the gate by Mary Adkinson and Margaret Evans while Don Neff and Herbert Barrett are the ticket takers.

THE GIRLS' Athletic Assn. are the ushers for the reserve seat section.

The reserve cheerleaders sell the programs.

The members of the Junior Class and the SOS Club have the refreshment booths at the game.

The local boy scout troops are in charge of the pre game flag raising ceremonies.

The Pickaway County Medical Assn. sees a doctor is present at each home game and Mader's funeral Home provides ambulance service if needed. The Circleville Police Department provides law enforcement service.

The members of the Booster Auxiliary furnish sandwiches for members of both teams after each game.

And behind all these workers and the several others not mentioned is Paul Sarchet, Circleville High School Faculty manager, whose duty is to supervise the entire operation from scheduling the games to seeing the buildings are locked after everybody has left.

Richard Snouffer, as principal of Circleville High School, is ultimately responsible to the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. for all athletic competition. Sarchet is his administrative assistant.

Tiger Harriers Win 3rd Meet

Hurley Paces CHS Cross Country Unit

The Circleville High School cross country track team boosted their season record to three wins and two losses yesterday when they defeated Hilliard 17-38.

Charles Hurley paced the local harriers, finishing first in 11:08. Larry Morgan was second, and Dave Greene was third.

Lyman England finished fifth and Jerry Shasteen was sixth as the Red and Black runners were just two points off a perfect score, it was announced by Dave LaBounty, Tiger Track coach.

Time trials for the district meet, scheduled Friday at Walnut Ridge High School, Columbus, will be held tomorrow at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds, it was announced by LaBounty.

This is the first year for the cross country sport at Circleville.

Texas Aims To Hold onto No. 1 Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas Longhorns, who kept Arkansas from breaking up their marriage to the No. 1 spot in college football, are out to make sure that Rice won't interfere with an extended honeymoon.

The Longhorns were voted the top major college team in the country for the second straight week Monday in The Associated Press weekly poll of a panel of sports writer and broadcasters. Texas drew first-place votes on 50 of the 53 ballot.

The Longhorns completely outdistanced second-ranked Wisconsin in the voting despite a 17-13 squeaker over the Porskers from Arkansas. The Badgers, 10-7 winners over Iowa, drew the other three votes for the top spot. Texas wound up with 527 points, Wisconsin 470.

Pittsburgh was third in the voting, Illinois fourth and Mississippi fifth, followed by Alabama, Oklahoma, Auburn, Northwestern and Navy, Ohio State, fourth a week ago, dropped out of the Top Ten after a 32-3 loss to Southern California and Georgia Tech, eighth last week; went out after a 29-23 loss to Auburn.

The Longhorns will be facing a tough assignment this Saturday night in the Rice Owls, who tied Texas 14-14 last year at this same stage of the season. That knocked the Longhorns from the No. 1 position they also held at this time last year.

The other members of the elite — with the exception of idle Auburn — also may be in for stiff competition this week on a program headlined by the meeting between Pitt's three-ranked Panthers and Navy's 10th rated Middles.

Wisconsin faces Ohio State, Illinois takes on UCLA in a Friday night game. Mississippi meets Vanderbilt, Alabama tacks Houston, Oklahoma plays Kansas State and Northwestern goes against Michigan State.

The Top Ten teams with first place votes in parentheses, and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1. Texas (50) 527
2. Wisconsin (3) 470
3. Pittsburgh 383
4. Illinois 249
5. Mississippi 215
6. Alabama 219
7. Oklahoma 177
8. Auburn 141
9. Northwestern 96
10. Navy

Massillon Climbs To First in Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Massillon's Tigers, winners of more state football championships than any other team, shrugged off an early season 13-6 loss to Akron Garfield and climbed to the top of the Associated Press high school poll today.

The Stark County powerhouse, winner of the title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy nine times since the ratings were inaugurated in 1947, used a 74-0 victory over Struthers to vault from third to first place as 51 sports editors participated in the voting.

Leo Strang's Tigers made it by the most narrow of margins, however, nosing out Springfield South's seven-game winners by a mere trio of poll points on the 1-9-8-etc. basis. Last week's leader, Niles McKinley, was idle over the weekend and skidded to third place.

It was a three-way race for the crown as Massillon amassed 281 points, Springfield South 278 and Niles McKinley 270. Niles poled the same number last week in leading the list by 33 over Springfield and 35 over Massillon.

Springfield South triumphed 54-8 over Portsmouth. Sandusky, leader two weeks ago, rebounded from a deadlock with Findlay to defeat Elyria 26-14 and retained fourth. The rest of last week's Top Ten held their same spots, with Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Akron Garfield, Cleveland St. Ignatius, Dayton Roth, Wilmington and Alliance completing the list in that order.

Massillon used 55 boys in the rout of Struthers, and the 36-point second quarter was the best in its history. A dozen Tigers figured in the scoring. Waverly halfback Bob McKenna rushed 268 yards in 17 tries, scored five touchdowns and kicked two extra points in the 60-12 triumph over Lucasville. Centerburg, which had lost six in a row, broke into the victory column 30-26 over Hillsdale — and quarterback Gary Wingo was the one-man gang responsible.

He scored three touchdowns and a two-point conversion, and with only two seconds to go passed three yards to Nelson Jackson for the winning touchdown.

Utica's Randy Vernon, 170-pound senior fullback, is averaging better than 51 yards on 14 punts. Jim Byrd, unbeaten Mount Vernon's sophomore halfback, played only one half but scored 20 points for a season total of 98 in the 46-6 conquest of Delaware Hayes.

Springfield scored the first five times it had the ball at Portsmouth, and turned the chore over to the reserves in the second half.

Lima Shawnee, 7-0 and with a 20-game unbeaten streak, gained 482 yards in beating Kenton 66-12. The latter team had only two first downs but scored on a 95-yard kickoff return by Jerry Sweet and a 98-yard pass interception return by Tom Ehlen.

Port Clinton, playing an out-of-state team for the first time, allowed Bedford, Mich., only one first down but lost 14-13. The invaders scored on a 75-yard kickoff return and a 29-yard fullback play.

Dover St. Joseph snapped Fredericktown's 11-game victory streak, 12-6, as fullback Rober Lammers gained 154 yards in 25 carries. He now has 702 yards for 108 tries—and 80 points.

Mansfield's Tygers beat Marion Harding 40-18, the biggest point total they've run up in 63 games. The Tygers completed only four of 11 passes—for 48, 34 and 12 yards—and all went for touchdowns.

Cardington, a 106-0 loser to Buckeye Valley last week, did a bit better Friday. It bowed to Highland 51-12—in the season's most unusual contest. Players had quit the Cardington team in such numbers that only 14 were available, so unhappy Coach

Henry Schroth — loser of seven straight—came up with an idea. By agreement with Highland there were no kickoffs or punts. At the start of each half the coin-toss winner got the ball on the 20-yard line. After touchdowns the other team got the ball on the 30. Instead of punting, the ball was moved up 30 yards. Everyone seemed to enjoy the whole thing.

Steve Budnick of Millersport has scored 138 in seven games, and three foes of Baltimore Liberty Union have wound up with minus yardage. Greenfield was blanked for the first time this year as Wilmington won 34-0 for its seventh of the year and 12th over two seasons.

Canton McKinley's Arnie Fontes scored three touchdowns and passed for four others in the 60-0 victory over Steubenville's Big Red. Of four touchdowns scored against Springfield South, only one has been against the varsity.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—How 51 sports editors, 32 from newspapers and 19 from radio-TV stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Shown are the first-place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the won-lost-tied records of the leaders.

New Speed Record

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Nieland of Whittier, Calif., and Vince Granatelli of Los Angeles drove a stock production car 1,000 kilometers at an average speed of 135.29 miles per hour Monday for an international speed record.

Collier Feels Giants Will Be Tougher

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns feels the New York Giants should be a tougher opponent Sunday than they were two Sundays ago because their pride was hurt in that defeat.

"A team that has lost feels it has to make up for the defeat," Collier said Monday. "And pro football teams have pride. The team which has won doesn't have quite as much incentive."

New York remained two games behind the leading Browns in the National Football League by defeating the Dallas Cowboys as Cleveland battered the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday.

New York Coach Allie Sherman wants to win this one badly, but he doesn't feel it is a "must" game.

"No game is a 'must' game unless you're down to the last few with time running out," Sherman said. "It just puts unnecessary pressure on a team. Obviously it will make it a lot tougher for us if we lose this one. The players know that."

The Browns said 10,000 general admission tickets for the Giants game will be on sale from 5 to 9 p. m. Wednesday at Municipal Stadium only. Remaining tickets will go on sale Thursday morning.

Winner Dies Of Heart Attack

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—An unidentified man, who hit the twin double for $10,899 on a $2 bet last Saturday at Roosevelt Raceway, died of a heart attack Monday night as he was about to cash the ticket.

After the man fell, a spectator picked up the ticket and was about to go off with it when he was tackled by a special policeman. The valuable ticket was retrieved.

The Saturday twin double was the third highest at Roosevelt Raceway since the four-race pool was established last July 8. The twin double Monday night was $14,766.20, the second highest at the track.

To win the twin double, a bettor must pick the winners of the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth races.

Offense Laurels Go to Chargers

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Diego Chargers, making a run-away of the Western Division of the American Football League, are piling up a number of impressive statistics for team offense.

The Chargers are first in total offense with a per game average of 371.6 and show the way in rushing offense with 148.6 yards per game. They rank fourth in passing with 223 yards.

The Boston Patriots, who moved into a first place tie with Houston in the Eastern Division, continue to dominate the defensive figures. The Pats are first in total defense with an average yield of 235.2 yards, in rushing with a 74.4 yard average and in passing with a per game yield of 160.8 yards.

Sixteen of the 43 players on the North Carolina freshman football squad come from outside the state.

Marv (Whitey) Helling is in his seventh season as football coach at the University of North Dakota.

Nicklaus Still Behind Palmer

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus won the Sahara Invitational last week for his fifth PGA tournament victory of the year but still trails Arnold Palmer in total winnings by more than $29,000.

Unofficial standings in PGA tournaments only, showed today that Palmer is far ahead in official winnings with $128,230. He won seven of the 20 tournaments in which he competed.

Nicklaus won five of 24 tournaments and Julius Boros three of the 26 in which he competed to be third in total winnings with $77,356.

Lloyd Eaton, a native of Belle Fourche, S. D., is in his 10th season as University of Wyoming football coach. His Cowboys have won 52, lost 25 and tied three.

Snouffer said anyone able to properly identify the bottle may claim it at the high school office.

Legion of Workers Involved In Making Game Enjoyable

The Friday night game between the Tiger teams of Greenfield and Circleville will be the last home game of the current season for the Red and Black.

A great deal of time and effort goes into making these home games both possible and more enjoyable for the local fans.

The legion of workers at every game include the public address system announcer, the game officials, the operators of the scoreboard, ushers, ticket sellers and takers, refreshment booth workers and many others.

Bill Stout is the vocal young man who makes the game easier for the average fan to follow by announcing over the public address system the ball carrier, the yards gained or lost, the tacklers, and many other things. Stout has been handling these chores since 1958.

BUT HIS work would be difficult indeed if it were not for Charles Walters, the spotter for the Circleville team. Each opponent also furnishes a spotter. Keeping track of the time on the board is Tom Elsea. Although the official time is kept on the field, fans have a good indication of the time remaining by following the scoreboard clock.

And handling the scoreboard itself is Dave Bircher. These persons, along with the members of the press, occupy the press box on the north side of the field.

Up on top of the press box is Stan Spring, the Circleville camera man, who films every game for the coaching staff.

Tiger Harriers Win 3rd Meet

Hurley Paces CHS Cross Country Unit

The Circleville High School cross country track team boosted their season record to three wins and two losses yesterday when they defeated Hilliard 17-38.

Charles Hurley paced the local harriers, finishing first in 11:08. Larry Morgan was second, and Dave Greene was third.

Lyman England finished fifth and Jerry Shasteen was sixth as the Red and Black runners were just two points off a perfect score, it was announced by Dave LaBounty, Tiger Track coach.

Time trials for the district meet, scheduled Friday at Walnut Ridge High School, Columbus, will be held tomorrow at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds, it was announced by LaBounty.

This is the first year for the cross country sport at Circleville.

Texas Aims To Hold onto No. 1 Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas Longhorns, who kept Arkansas from breaking up their marriage to the No. 1 spot in college football, are out to make sure that Rice won't interfere with an extended honeymoon.

The Longhorns were voted the top major college team in the country for the second straight week Monday in The Associated Press weekly poll of a panel of sports writer and broadcasters. Texas drew first-place votes on 50 of the 53 ballot.

The Longhorns completely outdistanced second-ranked Wisconsin in the voting despite a 17-13 squeaker over the Porskers from Arkansas. The Badgers, 10-7 winners over Iowa, drew the other three votes for the top spot. Texas wound up with 527 points, Wisconsin 470.

Pittsburgh was third in the voting, Illinois fourth and Mississippi fifth, followed by Alabama, Oklahoma, Auburn, Northwestern and Navy. Ohio State, fourth a week ago, dropped out of the Top Ten after a 32-3 loss to Southern California and Georgia Tech, eighth last week; went out after a 29-25 loss to Auburn.

The Longhorns will be facing a tough assignment this Saturday night in the Rice Owls, who tied Texas 14-14 last year at this same stage of the season. That knocked the Longhorns from the No. 1 position they also held at this time last year.

The other members of the elite — with the exception of idle Auburn — also may be in for stiff competition this week on a program headlined by the meeting between Pitt's unranked Panthers and Navy's 10th rated Middles.

Wisconsin faces Ohio State, Illinois takes on UCLA in a Friday night game. Mississippi meets Vanderbilt, Alabama tackles Houston. Oklahoma plays Kansas State and Northwestern goes against Michigan State.

The Top Ten teams with first place votes in parentheses, and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1. Texas (50)	527
2. Wisconsin (3)	470
3. Pittsburgh	383
4. Illinois	249
5. Mississippi	215
6. Alabama	219
7. Oklahoma	177
8. Auburn	141
9. Northwestern	96
10. Navy

Massillon Climbs To First in Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Massillon's Tigers, winners of more state football championships than any other team, shrugged off an early season 13-6 loss to Akron Garfield and climbed to the top of the Associated Press high school poll today.

The Stark County powerhouse, winner of the title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy nine times since the ratings were inaugurated in 1947, used a 74-0 victory over Struthers to vault from third to first place as 51 sports editors participated in the voting.

Leo Strang's Tigers made it by the most narrow of margins, however, nosing out Springfield South's seven-game winners by a mere trio of poll points on the 1-9-8-etc. basis. Last week's leader, Niles McKinley, was idle over the weekend and skidded to third place.

It was a three-way race for the crown as Massillon amassed 281 points, Springfield South 278 and Niles McKinley 270. Niles pined the same number last week in leading the list by 33 over Springfield and 35 over Massillon.

Springfield South triumphed 54-8 over Portsmouth. Sandusky, leader two weeks ago, rebounded from a deadlock with Findlay to defeat Elyria 26-14 and retained fourth. The rest of last week's Top Ten held their same spots, with Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Akron Garfield, Cleveland St. Ignatus, Dayton Roth, Wilmington and Alliance completing the list in that order.

Massillon used 55 boys in the rout of Struthers, and the 36-point second quarter was the best in its history. A dozen Tigers figured in the scoring.

Waverly halfback Bob McKen na rushed 268 yards in 17 tries, scored five touchdowns and kicked two extra points in the 60-12 triumph over Lucasville. Centerburg, which had lost six in a row, broke into the victory column 30-26 over Hillsdale — and quarterback Gary Wingo was the one-man gang responsible. He scored three touchdowns and a two-point conversion, and with only two seconds to go passed three yards to Nelson Jackson for the winning touchdown.

Utica's Randy Vernon, 170-pound senior fullback, is averaging better than 51 yards on 14 punts. Jim Byrd, unbeaten Mount Vernon's sophomore halfback, played only one half but scored 20 points for a season total of 98 in the 46-6 conquest of Delaware Hayes.

Springfield scored the first five times it had the ball at Portsmouth, and turned the chore over to the reserves in the second half.

Lima Shawnee, 7-0 and with a 20-game unbeaten streak, gained 482 yards in beating Kenton 66-12. The latter team had only two first downs but scored on a 95-yard kickoff return by Jerry Sweet and a 98-yard pass interception return by Tom Ehlen.

Port Clinton, playing an out-of-state team for the first time, allowed Bedford, Mich., only one first down but lost 14-13. The invaders scored on a 75-yard kickoff return and a 29-yard fullback play.

Dover St. Joseph snapped Fredericktown's 11-game victory streak, 12-6, as fullback Robert Lammers gained 154 yards in 25 carries. He now has 702 yards for 108 tries—and 80 points.

Mansfield's Tygers beat Marion Harding 40-18, the biggest point total they've run up in 63 games. The Tygers completed only four of 11 passes—for 48, 34 41 and 12 yards—and all went for touchdowns.

Cardington, a 106-0 loser to Buckeye Valley last week, did a bit better Friday. It bowed to Highland 51-12—in the season's most unusual contest. Players had quit the Cardington team in such numbers that only 14 were available, so unhappy Coach

Collier Feels Giants Will Be Tougher

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns feels the New York Giants should be a tougher opponent Sunday than they were two Sundays ago because their pride was hurt in that defeat.

"A team that has lost feels it has to make up for the defeat," Collier said Monday. "And pro football teams have pride. The team which has won doesn't have quite as much incentive."

New York remained two games behind the leading Browns in the National Football League by defeating the Dallas Cowboys as Cleveland battered the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday.

New York Coach Allie Sherman wants to win this one badly, but he doesn't feel it is a "must" game.

"No game is a 'must' game unless you're down to the last few with time running out," Sherman said. "It just puts unnecessary pressure on a team. Obviously it will make it a lot tougher for us if we lose this one. The players know that."

The Browns said 10,000 general admission tickets for the Giants game will be on sale from 5 to 9 p. m. Wednesday at Municipal Stadium only. Remaining tickets will go on sale Thursday morning.

Winner Dies Of Heart Attack

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—An unidentified man, who hit the twin double for $10,899 on a $2 bet last Saturday at Roosevelt Raceway, died of a heart attack Monday night as he was about to cash the ticket.

After the man fell, a spectator picked up the ticket and was about to go off with it when he was tackled by a special policeman. The valuable ticket was retrieved.

The Saturday twin double was the third highest at Roosevelt Raceway since the four-race pool was established last July 8. The twin double Monday night was $14,766.20, the second highest at the track.

To win the twin double, a bettor must pick the winners of the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth races.

Offense Laurels Go to Chargers

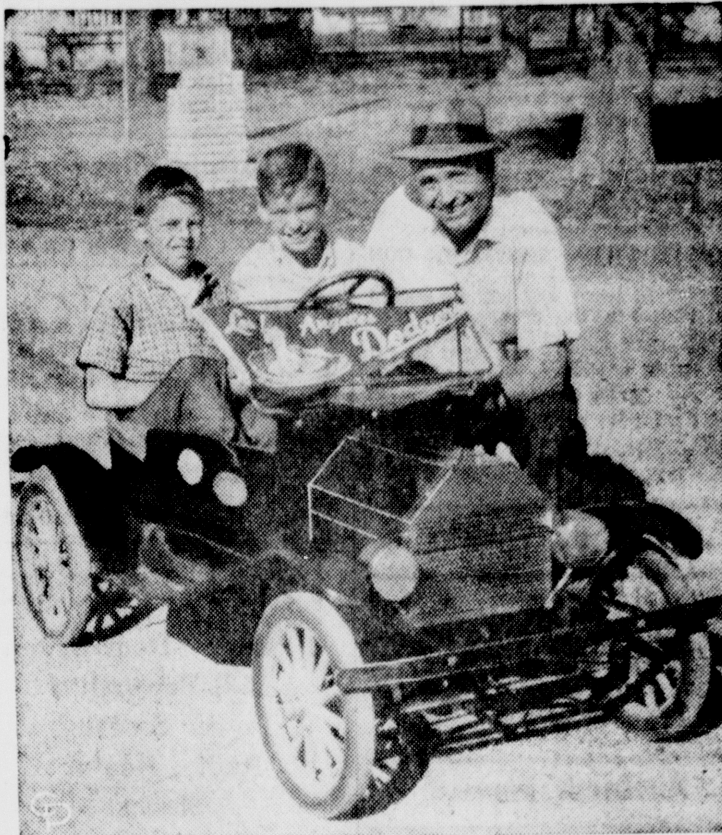

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Diego Chargers, making a run-away of the Western Division of the American Football League, are piling up a number of impressive statistics for team offense.

The Chargers are first in total offense with a per game average of 371.6 and show the way in rushing offense with 148.6 yards per game. They rank fourth in passing with 223 yards.

The Boston Patriots, who moved into a first place tie with Houston in the Eastern Division, continue to dominate the defensive figures. The Pats are first in total defense with an average yield of 235.2 yards, in rushing with a 74.4 yard average and in passing with a per game yield of 160.8 yards.

Sixteen of the 43 players on the North Carolina freshman football squad come from outside the state.

Marv (Whitey) Helling is in his seventh season as football coach at the University of North Dakota.

Nicklaus Still Behind Palmer

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus won the Sahara Invitational last week for his fifth PGA tournament victory of the year but still trails Arnold Palmer in total winnings by more than $29,000.

Unofficial standings in PGA tournaments only, showed today that Palmer is far ahead in official winnings with $128,230. He won seven of the 20 tournaments in which he competed.

Nicklaus won five of 24 tournaments and Julius Boros three of the 26 in which he competed to be third in total winnings with $77,356.

Lloyd Eaton, a native of Belle Fourche, S. D., is in his 10th season as University of Wyoming football coach. His Cowboys have won 52, lost 25 and tied three.

Thermos Found At Wilmington

Circleville High School principal Richard Snouffer said today a thermos bottle had been returned to the school by officials of Wilmington High School.

The thermos was found on the side of the field occupied by Circleville fans after the game there.

Snouffer said anyone able to properly identify the bottle may claim it at the high school office.

The most remarkable aspect was that producer Robert Drew managed to have his cameras and sound equipment with the principals during the critical moments in the turbulent days last June when the Kennedy administration was preparing for a showdown on the admission of two Negro students to the University of Alabama.

Tech Trying To Overcome Davis Loss

ATLANTA (AP)—"We've had actual game losses which hurt us worse, but few games overall have ever left us feeling so badly," said Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech today as his team tried to adjust to the loss of end Ted Davis.

Davis resigned from the football team Monday after publicly apologizing for kicking Auburn halfback David Rawson in the face in last Saturday's 29-21 Auburn victory.

Rawson was released from Emory University Hospital Monday night.

Davis said he was resigning to save Tech "the embarrassment of kicking me off the football squad."

"I hope David Rawson will try to forgive this terrible thing that I did in anger," the 21-year-old Memphis, Tenn., senior continued. "I pray that God will help me to control my emotions in the future."

Davis said his action violated every standard that Coach Dodd sets for his football players.

Dodd accepted Davis' resignation and said the end will play no more football at Tech. However, the Tech coach praised Davis for admitting his mistake and said Davis would remain in school.

Auburn Coach Ralph Jordan expressed disappointment that Davis was resigning. He said Rawson "holds no ill will toward him and he doesn't owe us an apology."

Davis was ejected from the game following the incident and Tech was penalized 15 yards for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Doctors checked the 20-year-old Rawson thoroughly to determine that he had not sustained permanent damage.

Davis' loss is a blow to Tech football. Dodd had called him one of the finest college ends in the country.

Bart Starr Injury Throws Load on Substitute Roach

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quarterback Bart Starr's injury thrusts a back-breaking burden on John Roach, a 30-year-old bench warmer in Green Bay's bid for a third straight National Football League title.

Roach, who has completed only two of seven passes as a stand-in for Starr and has had three intercepted, joins King Hill and Lamar McHan as former Chicago — now St. Louis — Cardinals who suddenly have become No. 1 quarterbacks.

Hill moved into the front row at Philadelphia after Sonny Jurgensen suffered a right shoulder injury in Sunday's game with Cleveland. McHan, cut loose by the Baltimore Colts, finally decided to join the San Francisco 49ers and passed them to their first victory of the season Sunday, an upset over the Chicago Bears. He replaced the injured John Brodie.

Starr suffered a broken right hand in the Packers' 30-7 victory over the Cardinals. He was injured in the third period when he ran with the ball and was bounced out of bounds by the Cards' Jimmy Hill.

A fist-swinging incident followed and Hill was put out of the game. The injury to Starr's hand reportedly occurred when he hit the ground before the fight. Hill claimed Starr had

Buckeyes Hope To Rebound Against Powerful Badgers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, still smarting from the worst defeat in Coach Woody Hayes' 13-year regime, return to the Big Ten wars Saturday—and they couldn't have picked a more prestige-packed foe for their comeback attempt.

Wisconsin's conference champions, winners of four straight and ranked second in the country, will be hosts to the Ohioans who hope to rebound from the devastating 32-3 setback at the hands of Southern California.

Hayes, in a short chat with press luncheon guests Monday, said the big problem in getting ready for the Badgers was a mental one rather than physical.

"We didn't get banged up physically against Southern Cal, probably because we weren't doing much," he said.

The canny Buckeye tutor has engineered quite a few upsets, and he could do it again Saturday. A year ago Ohio pinned a 14-7 loss on the Badgers, who came to town with a four-game winning streak against the Buckeyes' 2-2 record. That was the lone blemish on Wisconsin's record until Southern California's national champions nicked the Badgers 42-37 in the Rose Bowl.

In fact, in a dozen games against Hayes, Wisconsin has triumphed only once and tied twice along with nine losses.

The Southern California margin was the greatest suffered by Hayes in 114 games, and marked only the fourth time that a foe had gone over the 30-point scoring mark.

So Woody wasn't too happy in his press luncheon talk.

"I don't have much to talk about," he said. "We won't get anywhere living in the past, so we'll forget about Southern Cal. We took about as bad a whipping as we've ever taken. The game was like a nightmare."

"We had our chance early and we muffed it."

(Early in the game Ohio had the ball on the one-yard line, fourth down, and elected to try a field goal instead of going for the touchdown. The kick was missed.)

"We have to get our attack moving," Woody went on. "Our own defense is under attack so much that it tires. We just have to keep the ball longer."

"We know we have a big job on our hands Saturday, for Wisconsin probably is the best team in the country."

In Madison Monday night, Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn said his Badgers are concentrating on Ohio State and not on their No. 2 rating.

"We know we have a tough team to take on in the Buckeyes," Bruhn said. "We are thinking about that game and not how we stand in the nation."

"We are in pretty good shape, and if we can correct some of the errors that cropped up in our close game with Iowa last week, we should do alright."

(The Badgers edged Iowa 10-7.)

Bruhn said he planned no major lineup changes for the Ohio State game. He said he was not

Soph Honor Surprise to Tim McCarver

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Tim McCarver, named Monday the National League's outstanding sophomore of 1963, says the honor caught him completely by surprise.

"I just feel wonderful," the 22-year-old St. Louis Cardinal catcher said. "I'm really honored—well, I'm just at a loss for words."

McCarver, who is attending the University of Oklahoma, said he had been so busy catching up with classwork after enrolling late that "baseball had sort of left my mind. I've been hitting the books pretty hard."

He is majoring in business.

McCarver received 20 votes in the balloting by 44 baseball writers. Lou Brock, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, was second with six votes, followed by Donn Clendenon, Pittsburgh first baseman, four votes, and pitchers Denny Lemaster, Milwaukee, three each.

McCarver, a 6-1, 190-pounder, started the season as the Cards' No. 3 catcher behind Gene Oliver and Carl Sawatski. Oliver was traded to Milwaukee in June, and McCarver passed Sawatski to become the No. 1 catcher.

In 127 games, McCarver batted .289, with 12 doubles, seven triples and four homers included among 117 hits. He batted in 51 runs and was the only Cardinal besides Bill White to hit a grand slam homer.

Tom Tresh of the Yankees is the eighth player in history to hit home runs from both sides of the plate in the same game.

It was a great broadcast. It may very well start anew a lot of arguments about the way the affair was handled by all concerned.

Now that some scattered, preliminary returns are in from the viewers, television networks are turning their attention to salvage operations for shows that are in trouble.

Television trouble does not necessarily mean that the show is bad. The worst sort comes when a competing show, for some reason or other is particularly attractive.

In those cases, the jacking-up procedure falls on the publicity and exploitation departments. Stars and supporting players are sent out on exhausting public appearance trips to talk up their programs through endless interviews and guest shots on local radio and television shows.

In other cases, there are closed circuit television news conferences, which put work-bound stars before cameras in Hollywood, fielding questions telephoned in from reporters all over the country.

In cases where the show itself seems to be failing, emergency repairs are attempted. "The Travels of Jaimie McPheeters", for instance, just added a new character, Charles Bronson, who has a reputation for helping ailing shows.

Last season, he was pulled into the cast of "Empire" late in the season—too late, however, to save the show. "The Judy Garland Show", however, holds the season's repair record.

Recommended tonight: "Mr. Novak," NBC, 7:30-8:30 (EDT)—hits the integration theme; Telephone Hour, NBC, 10-11—with Nanette Fabray and Cesare Sienl.

Bart Starr Injury Throws Load on Substitute Roach

By JACK HAND

Quarterback Bart Starr's injury thrusts a back-breaking burden on John Roach, a 30-year-old benchwarmer in Green Bay's bid for a third straight National Football League title.

Roach, who has completed only two of seven passes as a stand-in for Starr and has had three intercepted, joins King Hill and Lamar McHan as former Chicago — now St. Louis — Cardinals who suddenly have become No. 1 quarterbacks.

A fist-swinging incident followed and Hill was put out of the game. The injury to Starr's hand reportedly occurred when he hit the ground before the fight. Hill claimed Starr had kicked him while both were on the ground.

With Starr out for possibly six weeks, Coach Vince Lombardi found himself with only Roach, a 6-foot-4 former Southern Methodist ace, as his lone quarterback. Roach had been drafted No. 3 by the old Cardinals in 1956. He spent the next two years in the service but saw plenty of service in both 1959 and 1960. Traded to Green Bay in 1961, he threw only 16 passes in two years before this season.

Although Starr has been erratic this year and has been intercepted 10 times, he has thrown eight touchdown passes and completed 50.7 per cent of his tosses. It was Starr, generally conceded to be an underrated quarterback, who led the Packers to the league championship in 1961 and 1962, beating the New York Giants in the playoffs.

Lombardi prefers to concentrate on one quarterback giving the signal-caller control of the offense. In such a situation, the No. 2 man, Roach, had little chance to play.

Starr's injury probably will assure a tight race down to the wire in the Western Conference of the NFL where the Packers and Chicago Bears are tied for the lead with 5-1 records. After losing the opener to the Bears, Green Bay came back and won five in a row.

ADRIFT IN HURRICANE PATH—This decommissioned destroyer escort, the U.S.S. Fogg, was adrift in the Atlantic with 10 men aboard in the path of hurricane Ginny. It was being towed by a tug, and the tow line broke. Then the tug lost contact.

Board Offers Explanation Of Need for More Facilities

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles prepared in cooperation with the Circleville Board of Education in an effort to explain current and projected needs of the school district as well as define the proposed bond issue.

The Circleville City School District will face its greatest challenge at the polls on Nov. 5, board of education members said today in making an appeal to voters to support a $1,848,000 bond issue.

Border Accord Is Uncertain

Selassie Continues Mediation Effort

ALGIERS (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia continued his efforts to mediate the Algerian-Moroccan border dispute today, but Morocco held out little hope for a quick settlement.

"The position of the two countries on the frontier question remains the same," Moroccan Foreign Minister Ahmed Balafrej told newsmen Monday shortly before the 74-year-old emperor boarded a plane in Rabat, the Moroccan capital, for Algiers.

Selassie had several meetings in Morocco with King Hassan II in an effort to mediate the conflict over possession of a desolate tract in the Sahara.

In Algiers, Selassie was greeted at the airport by President Ahmed Ben Bella and received a hero's welcome, as they drove through the city in an open car.

The emperor is reported trying to persuade Ben Bella to agree to a summit meeting with King Hassan. Hassan was said to have assured Selassie he is prepared to meet Ben Bella anywhere at any time to discuss a cease fire.

However, Ben Bella's government has unleashed an unprecedented hate campaign against Hassan, and the Algerian president could not easily sit down with the man his propaganda machine has described as a "contemptible feudal tyrant" without losing face with his own people.

Ben Bella's ministers also have repeated for days that there can be no further peace talks without the unconditional withdrawal of all Moroccan forces from the disputed desert areas.

Bruno Elected But Party Is Most Unhappy

LONDON (AP) — A local chairman of Britain's Liberal party took a far from Liberal view today of a group of young Liberals who elected a dog as their chairman.

The dog — a 6-year-old mongrel — is named Bruno.

"It was a gross piece of stupidity," said Eric James, "and it's embarrassing to the party."

James is ward chairman of Britain's third party in suburban Teddington. The young Liberals in his ward nominated and elected the dog.

"The parliamentary way out of this mess," said James, "is to pass a resolution of no confidence in the dog. He would then be relieved of his duties."

He promised such action probably next week.

The chairman ship of the Teddington Young Liberals came vacant and "no one was prepared to fill the post," said the dog's owner, David Crawford, 22. "So for a joke, I nominated Bruno."

"Bruno was democratically elected," Crawford continued, "and the appointment was duly recorded in the minutes. I'm terribly sorry if this has caused trouble."

The proposed bond issue represents the minimum amount necessary for crucial school facilities, members said.

Planning for this program began many months ago as a result of studies of projected enrollment, present and needed program and conditions of existing facilities. School officials note the proposed bond issue, if approved, will provide funds necessary to correct conditions needing immediate attention and provide facilities for an expanded enrollment and curriculum improvements.

THE BOARD of education and school administration, together with a Citizens Committee, have met, or will meet with all interested groups to explain the program as developed. They will answer any questions by individuals or groups.

Members of the citizens committee who have attended meetings since last spring will call on homes between now and Nov. 4, to assure that all citizens understand the proposed program. "The philosophy and purpose of this group is to educate all citizens regarding the facts of the bond issue," Superintendent Fritz Jacobs said.

As part of the board's action to inform all voters, a brochure has been produced for circulation to all homes in the city. This informational booklet was financed primarily from bonds provided by PTA units of the school district. No public funds can be used for this purpose.

Jacobs noted today that it is intended that every citizen be informed prior to election day, and have full understanding of what the bond issue will do for city schools.

Specifically, the need arises from increased projected enrollment which has and will continue to have a direct bearing on high school enrollment.

A needed program for seventh and eighth grade students, and the condition of three elementary buildings are included in the project. The board's study indicates that enrollment will be too great for the present high school building by the fall of 1965.

THE SEVENTH grade program presently lacks facilities for home economics, industrial arts, art and audio-visual instruction rooms. No library is available for the seventh grade. A limited and inadequate physical education facility is used by these students.

The current eighth grade set-up here is not complete because of the necessity of working it in and around the high school program. Limited industrial arts, home economics and physical education are attempted, but do not provide the curriculum needed the board claims. Officials explain that no central library is available for the eighth grade other than facilities shared with the high school. Physical education must be taught in the same place at the same time as high school classes.

No clinic studies are available at the high school building and no art program is offered due to lack of facilities. The high school building lacks space for proper laboratory means for chemistry and physics instruction and shops are inadequate for present enrollment.

The three elementary buildings that need to be abandoned, according to the board's study, are High Street, Franklin and Walnut Street. These buildings were built in 1874, 1894 and 1895 respectively.

Maintenance of these three buildings will require disproportionately increased expenditures yearly and will continue to do so, board members have stated. They feel the only solution is immediate replacement.

THE RESULT of replacement will also provide a multipurpose room for Franklin and High Street. Both buildings are presently lacking these rooms. It also would make available a cafeteria for both schools.

The program requires only two buildings to replace the three, inasmuch as Walnut students will attend the S. Court street building, now housing seventh graders.

Tomorrow: The proposed building program and how funds will be used.

Ship Rides Out Huge Waves Caused by Hurricane Winds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Navy destroyer escort Fogg, caught in the whirlpool of Hurricane Ginny, rode 25-foot seas today without engine power. Two Coast Guard vessels standing by her off North Carolina reported her 10-man crew was safe.

A decision on what to do about the Fogg awaits weather developments, a Coast Guard spokesman said in New York.

The 306-foot decommissioned vessel had drifted south in the Atlantic about 70 miles since breaking loose from her tow Saturday night.

The Coast Guard cutter Casco reached her Monday night, after the Fogg was spotted by a Navy hurricane-hunter plane.

The Casco, a 311-foot patrol gunboat, was joined by the cutter Chilula in standing watch within 1,000 yards of the Fogg, reported about 100 miles east of Cape Fear, N.C.

Shortly after daybreak the Coast Guard said the Chilula had reported that seas were moderating, but there was no indication when or if the 205-foot ocean-going tug would attempt to get a line to the Fogg.

The center of Hurricane Ginny was about 60 miles northeast of the ship, the Coast Guard said. Although the Fogg was only on the fringe of the season's seventh tropical storm, she was taking a beating from the winds.

The Coast Guard said latest weather advisories indicated that Ginny, packing 80-m.p.h. winds extending 50 miles in all directions from the center, may drift to the southwest, bringing her even closer to the Fogg.

The cutter Casco radioed Coast Guard area headquarters in New York that the 10 men aboard the Navy ship apparently had come to no harm.

The auxiliary ocean-going tug Salish was pulling the Fogg through hurricane-lashed seas

when the tow line parted 45 miles southeast of Cape Lookout, N.C.

The Fogg, in mothball-storage condition, was en route from Hampton Roads, Va., to Mayport, Fla., to join the reserve fleet. She has been inactive since 1947.

"We won't be able to tie onto her until the weather abates," a Navy spokesman said in New York.

Hurricane Ginny continued to lash the North Carolina coast. She was reported about 150 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., after remaining in a small area throughout Monday.

Ginny was following an erratic course that could take her out to sea.

Residents of North Carolina off-shore islands rode out the storm with few actual hurricane precautions. Businesses and schools opened a usual.

Grain Shipment Record Reached

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grain hauled over the Great Lakes in September hit a record 2,122,370 net tons and reflected increased need overseas, the Lake Carriers' Association reported today.

However, only 17 per cent of the 203 cargoes were carried in U. S. ships. The September movement last year totaled 1,803,390 tons.

Lake Superior district iron ore moved last month jumped to 8,667,960 gross tons from 7,527,560 tons a year ago. Coal shipments totaled 6,975,445 net tons against 6,254,083 tons for the similar 1962 month.

Total of the three commodities amounted to 18,805,930 net tons, highest for September since 1957 when 19,998,704 tons were moved.

THIS CHARRED SIGN rests on an area of more than 100 acres burned out near Poe Mountain in Pennsylvania's Center County. It is one of more than 80 forest fires in the state. Hunting, fishing, archery have been banned as a precaution for the tinder-dry woodlands.

British Jet Crashes in Test Flight

TISBURY, England (AP) — Britain's new pride of the skies, the One-Eleven short-range jet airliner, crashed in flames on a test flight near this small south west England town today. Seven pilots and observers aboard died in the wreckage.

Several American air carriers have ordered 31 of the new planes which are scheduled to begin passenger flights in Britain late next summer.

The plane was designed to fly at 550 miles an hour over distances from 100 to 1,000 miles with accommodation for up to 74 passengers.

A spokesman at British Aircraft Corp. said the plane was the prototype of the one with which Britain hoped to capture the world's short-range jet market.

The first One-Eleven was successfully tested for a cheering crowd on Aug. 20 at Bourne-mouth.

The One-Eleven was scheduled to go into service late next summer for the British United Airways on its route to Genoa, Italy.

BAC said it already had orders for 60 of the craft from airlines around the world, including those from American carriers.

ADRIFT IN HURRICANE PATH—This decommissioned destroyer escort, the U.S.S. Fogg, was adrift in the Atlantic with 10 men aboard in the path of hurricane Ginny. It was being towed by a tug, and the tow line broke. Then the tug lost contact.

Bond Issue Data

Board Offers Explanation Of Need for More Facilities

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles prepared in cooperation with the Circleville Board of Education in an effort to explain current and projected needs of the school district as well as define the proposed bond issue.

The Circleville City School District will face its greatest challenge at the polls on Nov. 5, board of education members said today in making an appeal to voters to support a $1,848,000 bond issue.

Border Accord Is Uncertain

Selassie Continues Mediation Effort

ALGIERS (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia continued his efforts to mediate the Algerian-Moroccan border dispute today, but Morocco held out little hope for a quick settlement.

"The position of the two countries on the frontier question remains the same," Moroccan Foreign Minister Ahmed Balafrej told newsmen Monday shortly before the 74-year-old emperor boarded a plane in Rabat, the Moroccan capital, for Algiers.

Selassie had several meetings in Morocco with King Hassan II in an effort to mediate the conflict over possession of a desolate tract in the Sahara.

In Algiers, Selassie was greeted at the airport by President Ahmed Ben Bella and received a hero's welcome, as they drove through the city in an open car. The emperor is reported trying to persuade Ben Bella to agree to a summit meeting with King Hassan. Hassan was said to have assured Selassie he is prepared to meet Ben Bella anywhere at any time to discuss a cease fire.

However, Ben Bella's government has unleashed an unprecedented hate campaign against Hassan, and the Algerian president could not easily sit down with the man his propaganda machine has described as a "contemptible feudal tyrant" without losing face with his own people.

Ben Bella's ministers also have repeated for days that there can be no further peace talks without the unconditional withdrawal of all Moroccan forces from the disputed desert areas.

Bruno Elected But Party Is Most Unhappy

LONDON (AP) — A local chairman of Britain's Liberal party took a far from Liberal view today of a group of young Liberals who elected a dog as their chairman.

The dog — a 6-year-old mongrel — is named Bruno.

"It was a gross piece of stupidity," said Eric James, "and it's embarrassing to the party."

James is ward chairman of Britain's third party in suburban Teddington. The young Liberals in his ward nominated and elected the dog.

"The parliamentary way out of this mess," said James, "is to pass a resolution of no confidence in the dog. He would then be relieved of his duties."

He promised such action probably next week.

The chairman ship of the Teddington Young Liberals came vacant and "no one was prepared to fill the post," said the dog's owner, David Crawford, 22. "So for a joke, I nominated Bruno."

"Bruno was democratically elected," Crawford continued, "and the appointment was duly recorded in the minutes. I'm terribly sorry if this has caused trouble."

The proposed bond issue represents the minimum amount necessary for crucial school facilities, members said.

Planning for this program began many months ago as a result of studies of projected enrollment, present and needed program and conditions of existing facilities. School officials note the proposed bond issue, if approved, will provide funds necessary to correct conditions needing immediate attention and provide facilities for an expanded enrollment and curriculum improvements.

THE BOARD of education and school administration, together with a Citizens Committee, have met, or will meet with all interested groups to explain the program as developed. They will answer any questions by individuals or groups. Members of the citizens committee who have attended meetings since last spring will call on homes between now and Nov. 4, to assure that all citizens understand the proposed program. "The philosophy and purpose of this group is to educate all citizens regarding the facts of the bond issue," Superintendent Fritz Jacobs said.

As part of the board's action to inform all voters, a brochure has been produced for circulation to all homes in the city. This informational booklet was financed primarily from bonds provided by PTA units of the school district. No public funds can be used for this purpose. Jacobs noted today that it is intended that every citizen be informed prior to election day, and have full understanding of what the bond issue will do for city schools.

Specifically, the need arises from increased projected enrollment which has and will continue to have a direct bearing on high school enrollment.

A needed program for seventh and eighth grade students, and the condition of three elementary buildings are included in the project. The board's study indicates that enrollment will be too great for the present high school building by the fall of 1965.

THE SEVENTH grade program presently lacks facilities for home economics, industrial arts, art and audio-visual in instruction rooms. No library is available for the seventh grade. A limited and inadequate physical education facility is used by these students.

The current eighth grade set-up here is not complete because of the necessity of working it in and around the high school program. Limited industrial arts, home economics and physical education are attempted, but do not provide the curriculum needed the board claims. Officials explain that no central library is available for the eighth grade other than facilities shared with the high school. Physical education must be taught in the same place at the same time as high school classes.

No clinic studies are available at the high school building and no art program is offered due to lack of facilities. The high school building lacks space for proper laboratory means for chemistry and physics instruction and shops are inadequate for present enrollment.

The three elementary buildings that need to be abandoned, according to the board's study, are High Street, Franklin and Walnut Street. These buildings were built in 1874, 1894 and 1895 respectively.

Maintenance of these three buildings will require disproportionately increased expenditures yearly and will continue to do so, board members have stated. They feel the only solution is immediate replacement.

THE RESULT of replacement will also provide a multipurpose room for Franklin and High Street. Both buildings are presently lacking these rooms. It also would make available a cafeteria for both schools.

The program requires only two buildings to replace the three, inasmuch as Walnut students will attend the S. Court street building, now housing seventh graders.

Tomorrow: The proposed building program and how funds will be used.

Ship Rides Out Huge Waves Caused by Hurricane Winds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Navy destroyer escort Fogg, caught in the whiplash of Hurricane Ginny, rode 25-foot seas today without engine power. Two Coast Guard vessels standing by her off North Carolina reported her 10-man crew was safe.

A decision on what to do about the Fogg awaits weather developments, a Coast Guard spokesman said in New York.

The 306-foot decommissioned vessel had drifted south in the Atlantic about 70 miles since breaking loose from her tow Saturday night.

The Coast Guard cutter Casco reached her Monday night, after the Fogg was spotted by a Navy hurricane-hunter plane.

The Casco, a 311-foot patrol gunboat, was joined by the cutter Chilula in standing watch within 1,000 yards of the Fogg, reported about 100 miles east of Cape Fear, N.C.

Shortly after daybreak the Coast Guard said the Chilula had reported that seas were moderating, but there was no indication when or if the 205-foot ocean-going tug would attempt to get a line to the Fogg. The center of Hurricane Ginny was about 60 miles northeast of the ships, the Coast Guard said. Although the Fogg was only on the fringe of the season's seventh tropical storm, she was taking a beating from the winds. The Coast Guard said latest weather advisories indicated that Ginny, packing 80-m.p.h. winds extending 50 miles in all directions from the center, may drift to the southwest, bringing her even closer to the Fogg.

The cutter Casco radioed Coast Guard area headquarters in New York that the 10 men aboard the Navy ship apparently had come to no harm.

The auxiliary ocean-going tug Salish was pulling the Fogg through hurricane-lashed seas

when the tow line parted 45 miles southeast of Cape Lookout, N.C.

The Fogg, in mothball-storage condition, was en route from Hampton Roads, Va., to Mayport, Fla., to join the reserve fleet. She has been inactive since 1947.

"We won't be able to tie onto her until the weather abates," a Navy spokesman said in New York.

Hurricane Ginny continued to lash the North Carolina coast. She was reported about 150 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., after remaining in a small area throughout Monday.

Ginny was following an erratic course that could take her out to sea.

Residents of North Carolina off-shore islands rode out the storm with few actual hurricane precautions. Businesses and schools opened a usual.

Grain Shipment Record Reached

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grain hauled over the Great Lakes in September hit a record 2,122,370 net tons and reflected increased need overseas, the Lake Carriers' Association reported today.

However, only 17 per cent of the 203 cargoes were carried in U. S. ships. The September movement last year totaled 1,803,390 tons.

Lake Superior district iron ore moved last month jumped to 8,667,960 gross tons from 7,527,560 tons a year ago. Coal shipments totaled 6,975,445 net tons against 6,254,083 tons for the similar 1962 month.

Total of the three commodities amounted to 18,805,930 net tons, highest for September since 1957 when 19,998,704 tons were moved.

THIS CHARRED SIGN rests on an area of more than 100 acres burned out near Poe Mountain in Pennsylvania's Center County. It is one of more than 80 forest fires in the state. Hunting, fishing, archery have been banned as a precaution for the tinder-dry woodlands.
